CREW MEMBERS AT POSTS TO THE LAST

British Columbia hospitals will have the $200,000 reduction in grants provided for in the present budget made up to them by a tax on meals, under legislation referred to by Hon. S. L. Howe in the Legislature yesterday and about which more information was given to-day.

The proposed tax will apply to meals in restaurants which cost more than fifty cents and will be collected by the proprietors as theatre taxes are collected. Details have not been disclosed but it is reported that on meals between fifty cents and a dollar, five cents will be charged and it will grow after that amount. It is reported to have been tried with success in Quebec.

PLANE MISSING OFF JERSEY; BLIMP DOWN AND FIVE RESCUED

New York, April 4.—The United States naval dirigible Akron, largest airship ever flown, crashed at sea off the New Jersey coast early this morning with a probable loss of seventy-three lives.

This afternoon the little navy blimp J-3, searching for the Akron wreckage, also fell in the sea with its crew of five, but none were injured.

Members of the Akron's crew stuck valiantly to their posts, with perfect discipline, through a violent electrical storm the great ship could not ride. Four men were rescued, but one of them died. The body of another was found later in the day.

CHIEF MISSING

Still missing this afternoon were Rear-Admiral William Moffett, chief of the navy's aeronautics bureau, and seventy others.

The crew of the Akron sighted the storm that doomed it at 8:45 yesterday evening, thirty miles south of Philadelphia. It proceeded on an east and northeast course through a light rain and wore a fog that obscured the ground.

Lieut.-Commander H. V. Wiley, rescued second in command, reported the ship was at that time in good static condition.

SURVIVORS LANDED

New York, April 4.—The three survivors of the Akron disaster arrived at the Brooklyn Navy Yard early this afternoon, one having to be removed to the navy hospital on a stretcher. The others walked ashore from the coastguard destroyer Tucker.

Lieut.-Commander Herbert V. Wiley and Midshipman William J. Smith, both of the Akron, were brought ashore, Copeland, an enlisted man, was brought ashore, Copeland was taken from the sea alive but died shortly after.

Commander J. Whitbeck of the Tucker at first refused to say anything, but later expressed the opinion that there is no doubt the Akron has sunk.

WRECKAGE PICKED

New York, April 4.—The Cutter McDougal reported to coastguard headquarters at 10:15 a.m. to-day that she had picked up fragments of wreckage from the dirigible Akron, consisting of light tinned metal with kapok. The cutter had picked up no bodies up to that time.

HOPE GIVEN UP

Washington, April 4.—Secretary of the Navy Swanson said to-day there was nothing to indicate the airship Akron would be found.

GOVERNMENT COULD CONTINUE FOR YEAR

Washington, April 4.—The United States Senate to-day granted the broadest power in its possession for an investigation of private bankers, including J. P. Morgan and Company, by its banking committee.

Without debate, the Senate adopted the Fletcher resolution extending wide power to the banking committee to make the inquiry into private banking which President Roosevelt has sponsored.

The resolution was drafted by Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, with a view to obtaining all the Senate's constitutional power over interstate commerce, banking and tax matters for the committee.

Pecora told the committee he had submitted twenty-three questions to the Morgan firm and that on advice of John W. Davis, its counsel, the banking house had refused to answer one and taken several others under consideration.

WANT FACTS FROM BANKS

With the corridors of the Parliament Buildings bristling with election rumors and T. D. Pattullo, Liberal leader, frequently calling upon Premier Tominie to announce when he plans to make an appeal to the country the information was volunteered this morning that it is decided to do so the present government could remain in office until February of next year.

The present Legislature automatically dissolves on September 1 next which will be five years from the day the present Legislature officially took over their responsibilities.

WITHIN ONE YEAR

This, however, does not mean that an election must be called immediately. The provision is made that the Legislature must sit within one year after the rising from the previous session. Presuming the present Legislature rises on April 6 next the session of a newly-elected house must be called by April 5, 1934. The present cabinet ministers could remain in office if they decided to take this unusual course until February 2, 1934, of next year, when it would be necessary to call an election so that new members could sit for the necessary session in April.

WITHOUT ELECTION

It is also pointed out that should Premier Tominie decide to seek outside support, he may step outside of his party membership in the House to name cabinet ministers. The ministers may function at the head of departments and it would not be necessary for them to be elected members. They would, however, be unable to sit in the House. This action, it is pointed out, is not without precedent in British Columbia.

JAPANESE BOMB TOWN IN CHINA

Peiping, China, April 4.—Japanese planes bombed Dolonor (Tolun), in Chahar province west of the Jehol border, Sunday, according to Chinese reports received here to-day. The Chinese garrison was scattered.

The attacks caused speculation as to whether the Japanese, their conquest of Jehol concluded, planned to extend the drive into Chahar.

RAILWAY WAGE INQUIRY STARTS

Montreal, April 4.—Hearing of the case of the Canadian railways began to-day before the tribunal appointed to arbitrate the wage dispute with the running trade. The employers ordered a 20 per cent wage cut to take the place of the 10 per cent reduction in force last year. The men protested and the Department of Labor at Ottawa appointed Mr. Justice G. F. Gibson of Quebec to hear the board of conciliation.

HEAVY TRUCKS TO PAY MORE

Many light cars will get lower license, Attorney-General Says

New Licenses Can Be Taken Out at Any Month in Year

Heavy commercial trucks in British Columbia will pay a substantial increase in license, but many lighter cars will pay less under the new system of paying automobile licenses by weight, Attorney-General Pooley said in the Legislature yesterday during second reading of the bill to amend the Motor Vehicles Act.

Mr. Pooley explained the bill provided for part year licenses beyond the extent stated in The Victoria Times on Saturday, when it was stated licenses for new cars could be taken out at any month during the year. This provision will also apply to new licenses on any car when the owner does not take out his license when they are first issued, which in future will be March 1. A difference is made east of the Cascades, where, on account of the snow an owner who takes out his license in January will be able to receive a rebate if he turns in his license plates and stores his car during November or December.

MORE FOR OLD CARS

Some larger brands of old cars will have to pay more because no depreciation allowance will be written off in future. A new fee for light cars of 112 had been set where they formerly paid $18.50. There were 786 cars under that class. Cars of from 1,500 pounds to 2,000 which now paid an average of $18.21, would pay $15.75 in the class of 2,000 pounds to 3,000 there was a small increase. The average license paid now was $17.75. The new fee would be $20.

To Mr. Pooley's mind, trucks which

WIDOWS' PENSION SLASH ATTACKED

Reduction of $200,000 Draws Fire From Members of Legislature

Humanitarianism Must Not Be Sacrificed, Says Liberal Leader

Despite protestations of Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary, to the contrary, George S. Pearson, Liberal, Nanaimo, insisted the government had adopted a policy of cutting down expenses at the cost of widows and children.

The difference arose when the vote for mothers' pensions—cut from $850,000 to $650,000—was under consideration.

Wells Gray, Liberal, New Westminster, quoted cases in his district to substantiate Mr. Pearson and said this cheapskaping on mothers' pensions was not the wish of the people or the municipalities.

The reduction in the vote was explained by Mr. Howe as due to the fact seventy women had been cut off and more were likely to be cut off.

MOVE PROPOSED TO EASE LAND PROBLEM

Holiday on Reverted Lot Sales, With Assessment Cuts, May Be Help

Plans to Aid in Restoring Land Values Looming at City Hall

Firm steps to handle the city's reverted land problem probably will be considered by the City Council within the next few months, it was learned at the City Hall this morning.

Coinciding with the proposed reduction in land assessments which will have the effect of lightening the tax burden on this class of properties, two other avenues of restoring land values are open for debate as far as council action is concerned. They are:

(1) Declaring a "holiday" for a specified period on sales of reverted property by the city land department.

(2) Fixing of the price for sales of reverted property at the assessed value.

"I am prepared to discuss the matter whenever the council is ready," said Mayor Tominie when he was asked for comment. "We may say more about it after the budget decks are cleared." The land problem is one which the mayor has been watching carefully since he took office at the first of last year.

Two of the factors tending to undermine land values in the city are the taxation on vacant, non-revenue producing land, and sales at figures below assessed values by the land department, based, of course, on market conditions.

The principle of placing the tax burden on the properties most able to bear it, that is, those which are, or could be made, revenue producing, is one for which the mayor is a firm supporter. In regard to the other factors, it is pointed out that Vancouver has a strict rule not to sell reverted lots at below the assessed value.

LOSERS APPEAL

Vancouver, April 4.—By unanimous decision of four B.C. Court of Appeal judges, the appeal was dismissed to-day of ex-Chief of Police C. E. Edgett for an injunction to prevent Mayor L. D. Taylor and Vancouver police commissioners from interfering with the position of chief of police.

The successful respondents were refused costs against Col. Edgett for "harsh and arbitrary" conduct, in the language of Mr. Justice Archer Martin, with which Justice A. E. McPhillips and M. A. Macdonald agreed. Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald would have allowed the respondents costs against Edgett.

Col. Edgett is left with his action, which was wrongfully dismissed, which can proceed to trial in Supreme Court.

Two Offers For P.G.E. Railway

London and New York Firm Bidding, Says Premier

In response to a demand from T. D. Pattullo for a frank statement as to where the negotiations for sale of the P.G.E. stood, Premier Tolmie told the Legislature yesterday that he had before him at the present time offers from two responsible firms of the highest standing, one in London and one in New York, which were being investigated. He declined to give their names or the nature of the terms under consideration, although Mr. Pattullo said the public had a right to the information.

Mr. Pattullo said he could not believe that any responsible financial people would conduct negotiations unless they had an understanding with the C.P.R. and C.N.R. who, as he had often stated before, were fundamentally responsible for railway transportation in Canada. No company could operate the P.G.E. without the co-operation of the two big lines, he said.

Hon. R. W. Bruhn also announced in committee of supply that no new unemployment agreement would be entered into with the Dominion until a delegation representing the government and the municipalities could visit Ottawa to discuss the matter.

U.S. SAFETY BILL
Washington, April 4 (Associated Press).—The Summers bill, imposing heavy penalties on persons who make public or publish diplomatic information "prejudicial to the safety or interest" of the United States, was passed by the House of Representatives yesterday under a suspension of the rules. The vote was 229 to 29.

The native population of Australia has declined from about 300,000 in 1788 to 22,000 in 1929, or 90,000 if half-castes are included.

Lively Prison Debate In Commons

Superintendent Comes In For Criticism

Brig-Gen. Ormond's Name Much Mentioned as M.P.'s Debate Report on Riots and Defend War Veterans Who Are Guards

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 4.—Private soldiers and prison guards are not without friends in Parliament. This was demonstrated yesterday afternoon and evening as speaker after speaker, most of them war veterans, assailed a reference in the report of Brig-Gen. D. M. Ormond, superintendent of penitentiaries, which they claimed cast a reflection on private soldiers employed as penitentiary guards.

During the four-hour debate on prison administration, Brig-Gen. Ormond was accused by several members of slandering every Canadian who served in the ranks during the Great War, he was accused of being the cause of the second Portsmouth riot and with general incompetence. His report on the riots was branded as "untrue," misleading and "brutal and unfair" to certain officers.

KINGSTON MEMBER SPEAKS
The guards generally found a defender in Brig-Gen. A. E. Ross, Conservative member for Kingston, who assailed Gen. Ormond's report on several grounds. The report was the result of an investigation into the riots at the penitentiary at Portsmouth, near Kingston, last fall.

Gen. Ross's chief complaint was that guards had been dismissed from their jobs without a proper hearing and sent out to look for other posts bearing the stigma of having "trafficked" with prisoners.

Three or four Liberal members joined in accusing the penitentiary superintendent of insulting war veterans. He was charged with reporting to the Department of Justice that a man who entered the Canadian corps a private and after three or five years had not risen from the ranks, "could not be expected to show a higher standard of civility." He was referring to prison guard appointments.

This report, said Hon. Ian Mackenzie,

Liberal, Vancouver Centre, was a reflection on every Canadian private and merited General Ormond's dismissal from office.

Ross Gray, Liberal, West Lambton, Ont., who served throughout the war as a private, called it "an example of red tape snobishness and brass hat officiousness."

UNOFFICIALS WARNED
Four months before convicted in the Portsmouth penitentiary settled in open rebellion last fall, prison officials were informed of the plans but disregarded the warning. Hon. Hugh Guthrie informed the House.

The Minister of Justice said a document was found in the prison last July, evidently the work of an educated prisoner, setting out details of the proposed revolt. It was based on a book published by the warden of Sing Sing, famous United States prison, and was to be passed from prisoner to prisoner.

Acting Warden Gilbert Smith merely placed the document on his files, the Minister of Justice said.

Again in September, he was warned of trouble brewing, and again he took no action, merely filing the documents and waiting for results. The second warning included plans for a general jail delivery with outside assistance, including scaling ladders for the walls.

THIRTY DISMISSED
"I blame the superintendent with these riots and I charge him with being the cause," said Brig-Gen. A. E. Ross.

Thirty or forty prison guards at Portsmouth were dismissed by Gen. Ormond without hearings, the Kingston member claimed, and were black-listed for future jobs. New men were forced to resign "with a pistol at their head—they were told to sign their resignations or their gratuities would be lost. There should be an open hearing of these cases, and I offer to resign my seat if the charges cannot be proved."

WILL NOT INTERFERE
Hon. Hugh Guthrie said Gen. Ross evidently was not satisfied with the present superintendent of penitentiaries and had not been satisfied with the previous superintendent. Some day, he hoped, the government would find a superintendent satisfactory to the member for Kingston.

So far as the government was concerned, however, said Mr. Guthrie, Gen. Ormond's work was satisfactory. So was that of the new warden at Portsmouth. Conditions there and in other prisons were steadily improving.

The guards' dismissal had been told why they were let out and the minister refused to interfere with the penitentiary authorities in picking the staff.

Reference to private soldiers in the report has been given too much significance, said Mr. Guthrie. He himself would not have used the same language, but it meant no more than that some ex-servicemen had proved unsatisfactory as guards.

The afternoon's debate took place on Mr. Guthrie's bill to take the appointment of penitentiary employees out of the hands of the Civil Service Commission and place it in the hands of the warden. As a result of protests against interference with the merit system of appointments, Mr. Guthrie agreed to confine the change to guards only and leave appointment of clerical and other help with the commission. The soldiers' preference would not be disturbed in making future selections.

FRICION REPORTED
For years there had been friction between Warden Penfold at Portsmouth and Superintendent St. Pierre Hughes, who was succeeded by Gen. Ormond, continued Mr. Guthrie. The upshot was that both officials retired on pension, Gilbert Smith taking over Penfold's position at the penitentiary.

During the riots, Acting Warden Smith acted as a "brave man," said Mr. Guthrie, but he should have heeded the warnings of impending trouble. Following General Ormond's investigation, changes had been made in prison administration designed to relieve distress among the men. It was hoped these would remove many causes of the revolt.

It seemed remarkable, interjected Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Liberal, Quebec East, former minister of justice, that riots had broken out in the three penitentiaries inspected by Brig-Gen. Ormond soon after he had taken office.

Not only did the bill seek to remove the personnel of the penitentiaries from the operation of the Civil Service Commission, but it also removed the staff of the penitentiaries branch of the Justice Department from the jurisdiction of that body, contended Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King. In view of that the Liberal leader proposed to oppose the bill.

The bill, however, was also noticed by Hon. Charles Stewart, Liberal, Edmonton West.

Brig-Gen. J. B. Stewart, Conservative, Lethbridge, expressed the opinion a wrong interpretation had been placed on Gen. Ormond's reference to the thirty ex-servicemen who, in several years' war service had been unable to rise above the rank of private. There had not been a word of criticism or resentment from any returned soldier.

RELIEF FOR TAXPAYERS
Halifax, April 4 (Canadian Press).—In keeping with the times, the Halifax council's finance committee has extended by six months the period in which a number of delinquent ratepayers must pay their taxes. Sale of properties was scheduled for May 1, but the date has been changed to November 1.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 4 (Associated Press).—Several hundred Milwaukee bottlers contend they have the world's most aggravating job. They have been rifting hundreds of thousands of bottles with good beer and they have not tasted a drop. Brewers have issued stringent orders against pre-taste of the brew, and United States prohibition agents are watching the thirsty bottlers.

Mitchell Trial In New York April 17

Associated Press
New York, April 4.—Federal Judge John S. Knox yesterday fixed April 17 as the date for opening the trial of Charles E. Mitchell, former head of the National City Bank of New York, on an indictment charging him with attempting to defeat and evade the income tax law as to 1929.

New Bell System For British M.P.'s

Canadian Press
London, April 4.—Twenty-two members of the House of Commons living within a mile of the Parliament Buildings have had installed in their homes bells which, through the telephone service, ring automatically whenever the division bell rings around the Commons.

This enables stay-at-home members to reach the House in time to vote.

The bells also ring three times daily—at 9 a.m. for resting, at 3:45 p.m. when the speaker takes the chair, and lastly about 11 p.m., when the House rises. It is rumored certain of the members object to the last feature because it tells their wives exactly when their husbands ought to be starting home-ward.

ROYALTIES CANCELLED

Santiago, Chile, April 4 (Associated Press).—The Chilean Government yesterday evening told envoys of four nations that recent elimination of bondholders' royalties on nitrate was just and fair. Representatives of Great Britain, the United States, Germany and the Netherlands charged this was a diversion of funds legally and morally due creditors.

Commons Approves Guthrie's Request For More Men If Need Arises

A. A. Heaps Says Minister's Reports on Communism Are Exaggerated

Ottawa, April 4.—Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, believes Communist activity in Canada is more dangerous to-day than for some years. He gave his views to Commons yesterday when he secured power from the House to add to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in time of trouble.

"Without being an alarmist," said the Minister of Justice, "I must inform this House that in the opinion of the commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the situation existing at the moment in regard to Communist activities is not at all satisfactory. These activities have not been lessened in recent months."

"I regret to say we have information that the Communist party in all its ramifications in various parts of Canada is perhaps more active and dangerous to-day than it has been at any time in recent years." Developments have taken place in the far west, on the Pacific Coast, throughout the prairie provinces, in Ontario and very recently in Quebec which may call for some further increase in the force in case anything like an actual outbreak occurs. As I say, I do not wish to be an alarmist, but it is always well to be prepared and the officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police have informed me they have made certain preparations to deal with situations that may arise."

AMENDMENT MADE
The police bill passed all stages in the House without division. As originally introduced the measure would have empowered the federal cabinet to utilize money from the national treasury by the provision for Royal Canadian Mounted police work. This drew protests from Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and several other Liberals and the Justice Minister withdrew the clause, deciding to utilize the wide powers of the unemployment relief bill if emergencies should arise.

At the present time the mounteds numbered 2,546 men, Mr. Guthrie said, an increase from last year of 979, including the preventive services. The force in 1930 numbered 1,245.

SOLUTION URGED
A. A. Heaps, Labor, Winnipeg North, expressed the view the danger of Communism was exaggerated in Canada. Apparently about $5,000,000 per annum was being spent annually on the R.C.M.P., largely because of present economic conditions. If but a small portion of that was spent on attempting to find a solution for the problem of unemployment, it would be of more real value to Canada.

The Minister explained the increased cost of the R.C.M.P. by saying that, in addition to the customs preventive work the federal force had taken over police work in six provinces.

Hamilton, Ont., April 4 (Canadian Press).—Maintaining the city owes him $9.40 for unemployment relief, John Guahill has entered a claim for that amount in division court. The city will not defend the action, however, contending relief is a donation and it is not obliged to pay it.

The Shaughnessy Heights Act, concerning which two groups of property owners waged a strenuous contest before the Private Bill Committee, was also given its committee stage and third reading at the one sitting of the House without debate.

Bills given final reading yesterday included a bill to amend the Dyking Assessments Adjustment Act, 1905; a

MAY PROROGUE ON THURSDAY

Many Bills Put Through Final Stages in Legislature Yesterday

Quick progress made on bills before the Legislature yesterday afternoon and evening brought indications that the business to come before the session may be finished to-morrow in time for the House to prorogue Thursday morning.

A number of bills have passed final reading and await the assent of the Lieutenant-Governor. Record progress has been made with the estimates and there are few motions on the order paper that promise to provoke long discussions.

Vancouver Incorporation Act amendments, occasion of lively passages during their committee stage in the Legislature last Friday were given their third reading without comment. No effort to reopen any of the controversial issues was made.

Bill respecting an agreement between the City of New Westminster, C.P.R., and B.C. Electric Railway Company relating to the diversion of Columbia Street; New Westminster; a bill amending the Security Frauds Prevention Act; a bill to extend the Duration of the Insurance (Temporary Provisional) Act, 1932; a bill to amend the Sales on Consignment Act; a bill amending the Supreme Court Act; a bill amending the Sale and Inspection of Fruit and Fruit Containers; a bill amending the Vancouver Incorporation Act, 1921; a bill amending the Shaughnessy Heights Building Restriction Act, 1922; and a bill to amend the Village Municipalities Act.

Bills to amend the Small Debts Court Act, Municipal Elections Act, Municipalities Aid Act, to limit the borrowing powers under certain Loan Acts of the province, and a bill respecting the Lower Mainland Dairy Products Sales Adjustment Committee were read a second time.

Bills to amend the Forest Act, Mineral Act, Community Regulations Act and Public Libraries Act were reported.

C. F. Borah Of New Orleans Dies

Associated Press
New Orleans, April 4.—Charles Frank Borah, 65, prominent attorney, a brother of United States Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, died at his home here yesterday after a week's illness.

A native of Fairfield, Ill., Borah came to this state in 1890 and entered law practice at Franklin La. President Taft in 1907 named him as head of the New Orleans "naval office," which later became the bureau of customs.

Sales more than DOUBLED

Combined sales more than twice as many in January and February as in same period last year.

THE greatest personal honour a manufacturer can attain is to have, and deserve, the confidence of a large and increasing body of users of his product.

A few weeks ago, I presented, on behalf of our great manufacturing and sales organizations in Canada, the new Chrysler, Dodge, Plymouth and De Soto cars. You believed me when I said that these cars are great values. You went out and bought them—almost two and a half times as many as last year.

This organization has proved before that the best way to get business is to deserve it.

There are other ways of attracting patronage, but I firmly believe there is no way so sure, so lasting or so profitable, as the simple method of giving the buyer better quality and greater value.

People are quick to appreciate value and the response to our offerings is making automobile history in Canada.

J. R. Clegg

"The best way to get business is to DESERVE it"

That retail sales of Chrysler Motors products for January and February are nearly two and a half times the sales for January and February of last year—(241.4% of last year, to be exact) is the record disclosed by official registration figures for Eastern Canada—Western figures not available.

This remarkable achievement of Chrysler Motors products—Chrysler, Dodge, De Soto and Plymouth—is in the face of a slight decline in sales for the industry as a whole.

The reason, in a word, is VALUE. And that value is due to Chrysler engineering, which has built into these cars . . . Floating Power Engine Mountings, which do away with driving fatigue . . . Chrysler Hydraulic Brakes with Centrifuge Brake Drums, which, with all-steel bodies and safety glass windshield, make the greatest safety combination ever achieved in an automobile . . . Double Drop X-Type Girder-Truss frame . . . Oilite Squeak-Proof Springs, which smooth out the rough spots and do away with oiling . . . Alloy Steel Valve Seat Inserts—no more valve grinding . . . Improved Automatic Clutch and Free Wheeling . . . Silent U-Thread type shackles, eliminating rattle and side sway . . . shock-proof effortless steering and many other features that make for comfort, economy and performance.

Above all, new low prices made possible by scientific engineering and courageous investment in cost-reducing tools and machinery.

Ride in a Chrysler Motors' car today—you will experience a new thrill in motoring. There's a thrifty car for every pocket book.

There are 45 different body models in the Chrysler Motors family—Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler. Ranging in price from $675 to $5,380, f.o.b., factory. Also a complete line of Dodge Commercial Cars—Standard, Sights and Heavy Duty Trucks—Capacities from ½ ton up.

REPORTS GIVEN OF BOYS' BAND

J. D. Kissinger Elected President; Bandmaster Rowles Praised for Work

At the annual meeting of the Rowles Boys' Band, held at band headquarters, Saturday, the retiring president, P. Wilson, and the retiring secretary, P. E. George, gave their reports covering the activities of the band committee during the year of office.

Thanks were extended to the committee of last year by the president and secretary-treasurer, and special mention was made of the work of Mrs. E. E. Warburton and Mrs. J. C. J. Morris, the lady members of the last year's committee, for their splendid co-operation in the work.

C. H. Rowles, the band leader, gave a brief outline of the history of the band, stressing the fact that it was very difficult to retain young lads in the band for any length of time. This fact made it very hard to build up a first-class organization. However, Mr. Rowles was making excellent progress with some twenty-six young musicians. Great praise and thanks were extended to the band leader for his untiring efforts with the band.

The following committee was elected for the ensuing year: J. D. Kissinger, Mrs. J. D. Kissinger, Mrs. E. E. Warburton, Mrs. J. C. J. Morris, C. J. Bailey, Mrs. Bailey and Mr. Fellow.
The band entertained the meeting with several selections under the baton of C. H. Rowles.

METCHOSIN

A committee of the Metchosin and District Community Club is making arrangements for the annual spring flower and bulb show, and it is hoped to surpass the great success achieved at last year's exhibition. A silver challenge cup, to be competed for annually, is presented by the club to the competitor securing the highest aggregate points in all classes. A prize of gladioli bulbs will be given to the winner of each first prize award. The honorary secretary is F. P. Baud, who will announce the date of the show later.

The Metchosin Tennis Club held its annual general meeting on Friday at the home of A. D. Ellwood. There was a good attendance and the usual business was transacted. The club had a successful season last year and a good membership. It was decided to hold a "tee" for preparing the courts on Saturday. Officers elected were: President, Rev. H. M. Bolton; vice-president, Miss Betty Higgs; secretary-treasurer, A. D. Ellwood; committee, Miss Owen Jones, Messrs. Rollo Jones, T. J. Mathews, James Milne and John Pennington. The opening day for play will be announced later.

PROMOTED BY BOVRIL FIRM

W. J. King Is Appointed to Vice-presidency of Canadian Branch

W. J. King, A.G.I.S., former manager for Canada of Bovril Limited, has recently been appointed vice-president of Bovril (Canada) Limited.

Mr. King has had a varied career with the food products trade, not only in Canada, but in England, Wales, Ireland and United States. Thirty-five years ago he started in the Bovril organization as junior clerk, and has since made steady progress. From junior clerk he rose to a traveling salesman, and later was promoted to a branch manager in England. Early in 1924 he was transferred to Canada, to be sales and advertising manager. He is now vice-president of Bovril (Canada) Limited and manager for Canada of Bovril America Incorporated, which controls sales in U.S.A.

He rose from the ranks to captain in the Imperial forces in the World War. He is a writer of note and a frequent contributor to the Canadian press. He is a director of the Arts and Letters Club of Montreal and a member of the St. James' Literary Society. Other organizations to which Mr. King belongs include the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Club, Engineers' Club, St. George's Society and Chartered Institute of Secretaries, England.

BILL TO CUT GRANTS MOVES

Three Conservatives Join Liberals Voting Against Measure in Legislature

Autocratic and Unfair, Say Members Opposing Measure

Three Conservative members and Thomas Uphill, Labor, joined with Liberal members of the Legislature yesterday in voting against the bill brought down by Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, implementing the elimination of a share of part-municipal grants to British Columbia municipalities as set out in his budget.

The Conservative members who opposed the bill to the municipalities were George Walkem, L. Loutet and William Dick. T. D. Pattullo, Liberal leader, and George S. Pearson, Liberal, Nanaimo, spoke against the bill. Mr. Jones pointed out the municipalities were paid $7,000,000 in grants last year and $53,000,000 in the last eleven years. The $7,000,000 paid last year was practically one-quarter of the whole of the revenue of the province. With falling revenues the province could not continue to do so generous. Mr. Pattullo pointed out much of the money was collected in the cities. It was not fair after automatically placing extra burdens on the municipalities last year to take away grants, without consultation, this year. The government recognized the problem was its own by its announcement there would be a royal commission on the subject. It could not operate to do any good this year and had only been appointed under pressure. The grants should have remained until the commission had sat, and even then the commission could not settle matters of governmental policy.

Mr. Pearson pointed to liquor and other revenues the province had taken from the cities while the cities were called upon to meet increasing expenses and described the elimination of the grants as extremely unfair.

MILK BATTLE BREWS AGAIN

Bill Winding Up Act Revives Old Warfare in Legislature

Strong language and a sharp difference of opinion in no way associated with party lines marked the second reading in the Legislature yesterday of J. W. Berry's bill to wind up the Committee of Adjustment under the Dairy Products Sales Adjustment Act.

Jack Loutet, describing the measure as "an act to protect the receivers of milk property," moved a twelve month "hoist." This was voted down by twenty-nine to ten on recorded division. The ten opponents of the bill were Loutet, Rutledge, Dick, Corbett, Mitchell, Alward, Walkem, Hayward, Twigg.

J. W. Berry and A. M. Manson were the chief speakers for the bill. They explained it had two provisions. It provided for winding up the committee under the Companies Act and the Supreme Court. It also indemnified the members of the committee against lawsuits which might be brought against them for deeds performed in their official capacity under the act, which has, of course, been declared null and void by the courts on constitutional grounds. The difference of opinion was with regard to indemnification of the members of the Committee of Adjustment, of which C. A. Webb, New Westminster merchant, was chairman.

R. W. Rutledge said the bill deprived independent milk producers of the right to obtain payment of milk. They gouged out of them by the committee. Jack Loutet said the government should audit the committee's books before allowing the bill to pass, to see if all the money was collected and disbursed in accordance with the act, which the member said he doubted.

"Who paid the costs of the court appeals?" he asked.
A. M. Manson said the indemnification was in the same language as that provided for magistrates and court of organizations to which Mr. King belongs include the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Club, Engineers' Club, St. George's Society and Chartered Institute of Secretaries, England.

A feature of interest and pride to Canadians is the fact that Bovril originated in Canada, being known originally as Johnston's Fluid Beef. The company operates a large factory in Montreal where Bovril supplies for Canada are made.

The retiring chief was given six weeks leave of absence, starting April 15, and will go on the superannuation list at the end of May.

Deputy Alexander Munroe has been definitely appointed as his successor. Alderman James Adams led the cordial cheers in paying personal tribute to Chief Stewart, recalling how he had played football with him, and always found him "a good sport both on and off the field." He had filled the position of fire chief in a worthy and commendable manner, the alderman said.

Aldermen J. D. Hunter and Alex. Feden added their respective comments to these remarks, expressing the wish that Chief Stewart would have many more years of happiness and health.

Further details on the proposed economy shake-up in the fire department were learned yesterday evening. There will be no deputy chief appointed and two captains will be selected as seconds in command of the force. The new chief has been asked to draw up plans for dealing with a fire.

It is uncertain whether or not this will involve the closing of one fire hall, but it may mean several changes in the personnel in the way of superannuations and internal shifts.

EXTENSION OF MORTGAGE AID

Moratorium on Principal Payments to Continue For Year

Hoist to Tax and Interest Payments Not Favored

A straight moratorium on sinking fund payments in 1933 only if a municipal council so wishes is provided for in amendments to the Municipal Act brought down in the Legislature yesterday. The clause dealing with the matter reads as follows:

"Notwithstanding the provisions of the Municipal Act or of any by-law of the municipality, the council of any municipality may by by-law provide that in the year 1933 it shall not be necessary to levy or raise or provide the full amount of money required by by-law of the municipality to be provided for sinking fund purposes, and determine what amount, if any, shall be levied or raised or provided for those purposes in that year."

Another clause in the bill gives a municipal council power to prohibit or regulate parades, marches, or processions of any kind or nature or public meetings or other demonstrations of any kind or nature, through or on the public streets, highways, squares or places of the city.

The penalties for unpaid taxes is cut from 15 to 10 per cent.
Power is also given municipal council to cut the existing penalties in half. A further clause gives a council power by by-law to extend, for not more than one year, the time now allowed for redemption of property reverted to the city for taxes.

Authority is given a municipal council under another clause to refuse a business license. This may be done only by the unanimous vote of all the members present.

Further provisions make it necessary for a person bringing suit against a municipality to launch the action within a certain time.
Where property has reverted to the municipality the municipality now has no option but to proceed under the act. Any amendment will permit the council to negotiate with owners wishing to redeem their property. This is operative only during 1933.

Victoria's application for power to control the reconstruction of wooden buildings which have been damaged by fire is included.

PROPOSES AID TO INDUSTRIES

Liberal Leader Urges Legislature Not to Wipe Out Department

During second-reading of a routine bill to limit borrowing powers under certain loan acts a plea was made for the Department of Industries to be retained in the Legislature yesterday.

The bill dealt with loan acts dating back to 1916, including P.E.C. Construction Loan Act, the B.C. University Loan Act and the Department of Industries.

Mr. Pattullo recalled the Department of Industries was started as a measure to aid returned soldiers. He believed it had served a useful purpose and losses had been more than compensated for by the advantages obtained. The present government had departed from the original idea and had made loans to other than returned soldier industries. The government now faced a similar problem to the returned soldier problem and he thought it was making a mistake in rescinding the department.

It was better to leave it to meet exigencies which at present they could not meet.

W.A. Present Farewell Gift To Mrs. Laycock

Cathedral Senior Group Honored President at Open Meeting Yesterday

Archdeacon's Wife Recalls Experiences Among Naas Indians; Slides Shown

The members of the Senior W.A. of Christ Church Cathedral took the opportunity afforded by the open meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Memorial Hall, to make a farewell presentation to Mrs. E. P. Laycock, president of the branch, as this would probably be the last meeting at which she would preside before leaving early next month for her home in England.

The gift took the form of a hand-some hand bag with her initials on a silver plaque and the presentation was made by Mrs. C. Quinlan, honorary secretary of the branch, in a short speech embodying the deep regret felt by every member of her branch at Mrs. Laycock's approaching departure, and the sincere love and good wishes that would follow her into her new sphere of usefulness. Mrs. Laycock expressed her thanks in a short, but moving speech, and hoped that the good work so faithfully carried out by the members would continue under God's blessing.

The presentation followed a most interesting address given by Mrs. Laycock on her experiences among the Naas Indians, the story being illustrated by slides, showing the conditions under which the Archdeacon and she had lived and worked.

INTERESTING PICTURES
Among interesting personalities in the groups were the mother of Archdeacon Collier, also the famous missionary, his father, in his canoe. One picture showing the ruins of the house in which was stored all the valued possessions of Rev. and Mrs. Laycock, which were completely destroyed by fire in their early mission days, brought home to the audience the sacrifices made by these early missionaries in their earnest desire to bring the Gospel to these native people, sunk in idolatry and evil practices.

Among the business dealt with, previous to the lecture, was a letter of sympathy voted to be sent to Mr. Boly on the death of his mother, who was an old and valued member of the branch.

Notice was given of the next meeting on Monday, May 1, and of the diocesan board meeting to be held at St. Mary's, Oak Bay, on Friday, April 21.

The meeting was attended by nearly 100 guests at the close of the meeting, by Mrs. Bernard Chow, Mrs. F. M. Norrish, and Mrs. Rogers, with several able assistants, and a pleasant social hour was spent.

Chapter Plans Coming-of-age Programme Soon
The Florence Nightingale Chapter I.O.D.E. will celebrate its coming-of-age on May 12, when a special programme will be given in connection with the anniversary. Tentative plans were made at the monthly meeting held at the headquarters yesterday afternoon, the details of which will be completed later.

Mrs. Kylie Symons, the regent, was in the chair, and a warm welcome was given to Mrs. E. Kirkland of Ladner, a former regent of the Chapter.

The secretary, Mrs. Norman Baker, gave the Provincial summary. The year's subscription of $17 was renewed by the Travelers' Aid of the Y.M.C.A., and the sum of $5 was given towards the fund to be installed in the Pender Island Hospital. The usual teas were given in the sunroom of the Jubilee Hospital, and four boxes of apples were sent to the hospital, besides two dressing gowns for patients. A layette was sent to a woman up-Island.

Cricketers to Hold Dance Thursday
The committee in charge of the cricketers' dance to be held in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel on Thursday, April 6, announce that in addition to Mrs. Mabel Wells, who will give exhibitions of fancy dancing, arrangements have been made to have special lighting effects. Dancing will be from 8 till 11. Reg. Wood's six-piece orchestra has arranged a programme of popular dance numbers.

The management of the hotel are serving a special supper in the main dining-room at popular prices. Tickets can be obtained at the Empress Hotel, Spencer's drug department or Terry's drug store.

Centennial Women's Guild.—Under the auspices of the Centennial Women's Guild, a silver tea will be held to-morrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Townsend, 1912 Argyle Street, near the Normal School, Mount Tominie. Tea will be served from 3 till 6 o'clock, and a good musical programme has been arranged.

TO HOLD DANCE FOR RED CROSS

Misses Jean Lennox and Betty Bechtel to Be Hostesses April 19

Faced with the loss of revenue this year owing to the cutting down of the provincial government grant, the Canadian Red Cross Society is greatly in need of help to carry on its peace-time programme of helping needy settlers in the isolated communities and ex-service men who are still in hospital. With the commendable object of helping the funds, two well-known young girls, Miss Jean Lennox and Miss Betty Bechtel, have planned to hold a dance on Wednesday evening, April 19, for which Mrs. Lennox is kindly loaning her home on Foul Bay Road.

Tickets for the affair, which promises to be one of the most delightful functions of the Easter season, may be obtained from either of the above or from Miss Kathleen Wilson, who is assisting.

The Esquimalt chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will hold a "Lily" tea to-morrow afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. J. Burnett, 1151 Old Esquimalt Road. The programme includes the reading of the younger members. Tea and readings will be given and there will be a tombola. The proceeds will be devoted to the building fund.

Miss Betty Crichton, R.N. of Kelowna, is spending this week in Victoria. She is the guest of Mrs. J. C. Green, 604 Paul Bay Road. Miss Crichton will sail on Empress of Asia for Shanghai to join the nursing staff of the Country Hospital there, and she will be the eighth graduate of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, on the staff of the hospital, the others being Miss Cuff, Miss Margaret Green, Miss Crichton, Miss Bechtel, Miss C. C. Snowdon and Miss Oatway.

Among the guests registered at the Dominion Hotel are: Mr. G. W. Walden, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. W. Dring, Vancouver; Mr. G. F. Budd, Vancouver; Mr. A. B. Harland, Vancouver; Mr. D. Johnston, Vancouver; Mr. D. J. Muggill, Vancouver; Mr. Warren E. Crane, Seattle; Mr. T. H. O'Grady, Vancouver; Mr. L. C. Douglas, Vancouver; Mr. J. E. W. Reid, Vancouver; Mr. J. A. Macdonald, Vancouver; Mr. W. R. DeLing, Nanaimo; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gilchrist, Vancouver; Mr. J. H. Adams, Smith Falls, Ont.; Mr. D. Harris and son, Ganges; Mrs. J. Henney, Victoria.

Miss Lillian Parker, a bride-elect, was the guest of honor at a select-peace shower held for her Saturday afternoon by Miss Mae Kirkendale at her home, 648 Dallas Road. The many pretty gifts were hidden in a box gaily decorated in the spring colors of green and yellow, and were brought in by a miniature tea wagon by little Betty Roff and Baby George Kirkendale. Miss Parker is a graduate of the 1931 class of the Royal Jubilee Hospital. The tea table was decorated in yellow and silver, and the guests included besides Miss Parker, Mrs. Roff and Betty, Mrs. Kirkendale and Baby George, Miss Herling, Miss Burlinole and her fellow nurses, the Misses Main, Winters, Head, Helgeson, Oakley and Kirkendale.

Miss Florence Sanders, Miss Moya Bailey and Miss Jean Bailey were joint hostesses at an enjoyable dance held in the Sons of Canada Hall yesterday evening in honor of the Beaver basketball team. A three-piece orchestra provided a varied programme of music, which included many novelties. Refreshments were served buffet style, the table being decorated with mauve and white crepe paper, the colors of the team and bowls of narcissi. Musical guests of the evening were Miss Jack Taylor, president of the Esquimalt Association; Mr. Frank Shandley, Mr. L. Gordon, the trainer, and members of the team, including Mr. D. Tubman, the captain, and George Preston, G. Moore, Harold Shepherd, O. Goldsmith, W. Levy, L. Ritchie and Mr. I. Macdonald.

A most enjoyable evening was spent yesterday by the members of the Victoria Operatic Society in their headquarters on Rockland Avenue, when a series of songs and an interesting play were given. Those in the programme were Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, Mr. Fraser Lister, Miss Dorothy Parsons, Mr. Reginald Hicks, Mr. Arthur Partridge, Mr. Arthur Dool, Mr. Wallace Gunn, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Wade and Mr. Gordon Shaw. "The Court of Love," by L. Bullock-Belcher, was the play, in which appeared Miss Ethel Hale, Miss Dulce Hamlet, Mr. Jack Child, Mr. Mac Leeming, Mr. Brian Green, Mr. Tommy Hall, Mr. Fraser Lister, Miss Eileen Thain, Miss Anne Breton and Miss Gladys Heston. At the close of the evening Mr. Harry Davis, president of the society, spoke a few words of thanks to all those who had taken part in the musical comedy, "The Camp of Bagdad," at the Royal Victoria Theatre last week.

Baby's sleep - her very health depended on this soap!

"My baby was troubled with eczema," writes Mrs. O. C. Day. "It was scattered all over her head and body. She cried a lot and slept little. Clothing aggravated the breaking out on her body. I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment on her and in four weeks she was completely healed." If baby is restless, sleepless, wakes crying in the night, watch out for her tender skin. A change to Cuticura can mean rest for baby and rest for tired mother, too.

Thousands of mothers find invaluable help and comfort in Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum Powder. Over half a century of success in controlling and healing skin troubles.

FREE! Valuable folder on the care of baby's skin, your skin! It is full of practical suggestions, inexpensive to use. Highly effective. Treatments proved by outstanding success. Address Dept. Z-11, Lyman Agencies, Ltd., 286 St. Paul St., W. Montreal.

DOUKHOBORS
TAKE CHILDREN

Many Young Wards of Province Will Go Back to Communities

An average of $17.50 a month was provided for a single Doukhobor child, widow with one child, deprived of a pension, could only hope for relief of $10.10. A. M. Manson, K.C., outlined when a vote of $40,000 for the maintenance of Doukhobor children was under consideration in the legislature yesterday.

Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary, said from 300 to 400 children of incarcerated Doukhobors were wards of the province. He mentioned the province was making every effort to remove them from the institutions where they were now being maintained. Seventy-eight of them would soon be sent back to their homes in Doukhobor communities.

Concert Enjoyed
At Strawberry Vale

A delightful concert was arranged by St. John's and St. Columba's A.C. and was given jointly in Strawberry Vale Hall on Friday evening to capacity house. The young people of St. John's showed much talent in their singing for a play, entitled, "The New Housekeeper," and won much applause from the audience.

Six boys from St. Columba's dressed very smartly and wearing top hats, sang the opening chorus, "How Do You Do, Everybody?" very effectively, later a delightful audience with their appearance as "1933 Polly Boys" dressed in gaily-colored beach pyjamas and with jaunty hats and ruffles to match, the boys made a decided hit as they danced and sang, combining rhythm and grace in their varied dances. The principal "girl" dressed in approved ballet costume was portrayed by Lionel Foster, his dance being most ably and effectively executed. There taking part were: Eddie Murphy, Ernest Gray, Charlie Fulton, Edward Cox, Maurice Foster. Twenty dances were given by Miss Poley, Hutchinson, dressed very becomingly.

A play entitled, "His Sweet Bouquet" was given by Vera Knowles, Esther Sibbs, Sylvia Cunningham, Dorothy Rodman, Lionel Foster, Charlie Fulton and Maurice Foster. Another very much enjoyed little sketch called "King and Queen Bee" was given by Charlie Fulton and Lionel Foster. Accompanists for the evening were Miss Marjorie Foster, Miss Dorothy Hodgson and Miss Gertrude Foster.

TO DISCUSS RELIGIONS

This evening the regular session of the Obyss Club of the Oak Bay United Church will be held, when members will present a resume of five of the living religions of the world. Those taking part will be David Gorman on "Shintoism," Walter Housley on "Jainism," Miss Jean Betts on "Buddhism," Miss Mable Marshall on "Hinduism," and Miss Jean Smith on "Zoroastrianism." The programme has been arranged to make it appealing to the young people and all young people of Oak Bay are invited.

ALPINE CLUB ANNIVERSARY

Members Gather at Banquet to Celebrate Twenty-seventh Year Since Founding

A. O. Wheeler Pictures History of Organization Since First Camp in 1906

At a banquet and whist drive, the Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club of Canada yesterday evening celebrated the twenty-seventh anniversary of the founding of the organization. The affair was held in the Princess Louise dining-room of the Empress Hotel, with forty-two guests attending. After dinner they played whist in the Princess Charlotte room.

An address by A. O. Wheeler, president of the section and honorary president and founder of the parent body, was a feature of the evening. He sketched the club's activities since its first camp at the summit of the Yoho Pass in 1906. With the exception of two, he has been present at every annual camp since that time. Perhaps the greatest accomplishment of the club, he said, was the conquest of Mount Logan, the highest Canadian mountain, by a combined party of Canadian and U.S. members, under the leadership of MacCarthy, Lambert and Col. W. W. Foster.

Appointment last year of a committee to promote study of glaciers and glacial action was one of the more recent undertakings of the club, he said. Mr. Wheeler is chairman of this committee. At the present time, eyes of alpinists all over the world were turned toward Mount Everest, where another attempt is under way to scale it.

Mr. Wheeler exhibited several pieces of crystallized salt gathered in Death Valley, California, during a visit there and gave a vivid description of the strange geological formation of the country.

Five-minute talks were given by Major E. O. Wheeler, J. P. Forde and Dr. Irene Bastow Hudson. C. L. Harrison and Gordon Cameron proposed and replied to the toast, "The Alpine Club." Mrs. R. D. McGaw sang "Happy Song" and "Bird Lullaby," her selections being greatly enjoyed.

Members of the affair were: Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Forde, George Forde, Major and Mrs. E. O. Wheeler (Quebec, India), Colonel and Mrs. H. W. Laws, Colin Rutherford, T. Goodlake, Mr. and Mrs. L. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. McGaw, Mr. Whitney-Griffiths, Capt. and Mrs. C. M. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. George Deane, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cameron, Miss Tuckey, P. Tuckey, Miss Kathleen Martin, Miss Erminie Bass, Mrs. Healy Kerr, Mrs. Postgate, Miss Janet Bell, Mrs. Holland, Mrs. C. J. B. SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

THERE'S ECONOMY WITH GOODNESS IN A WHOLE HAM

By SISTER MARY

It is a decided economy to buy a whole ham if you are sure you can use it all up. The choice middle cuts always are high when bought separately, but if the whole ham is purchased they are not considered. Butt-end, hock-end and centre are regarded as a whole and priced at so much a pound.

There are numberless ways of cooking smoked ham, but I believe that the most meals can be served with the least danger of the family becoming tired of the meat if both the ends are boiled and then worked up into interesting dishes. The centre can be cut in slices for broiling. After the middle slices are used, the ends are put together and securely tied and treated as a whole ham. Plan how the entire ham is to be used and then there will be no waste.

SOAKING, GOOD RULE

Although it is not absolutely necessary to soak all hams before boiling or baking, I have found it advisable to do so even though I am sure of my brand and the saltiness of the ham I've bought. An over-night bath in clear, fresh water cannot hurt any ham and will restore the moisture lost through curing. If a ham has been over-salted, soaking is imperative to make it tender as well as palatable.

There are two precautions to keep in mind when you soak a ham. First, it must not depend on it to furnish its own fat entirely. Always begin to cook ham at a low temperature and increase heat gradually.

START IN COLD WATER

Put ham on to boil in cold water, bring slowly to the boiling point and simmer gently until tender. The time will vary, but it will take five or six hours for a twelve-pound ham. It can be boiled in cider, or seasonings can be added to the water to give it a piquant flavor. Bay leaves, whole cloves, peppercorns, onion and carrot are the seasonings generally liked. If the ham is to be used sliced cold, let it cool in the water in which it was cooked. Then remove and trim as necessary. Plain boiled ham can be used in innumerable made dishes and is excellent to have in the ice-box for an emergency.

When the whole joint is to be baked it should be boiled first and then baked only long enough to brown the outside and season it.

TO-MORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Cereal cooked with dates, cream, fried bread, toasted muffins, marmalade, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Split pea soup, roasted chicken, fruit salad, steamed bread, milk, tea.

DINNER: Ham loaf with browned pineapple slices, potatoes in cheese sauce, buttered spinach, jellied celery salad, date custard pie, milk, coffee.

Aldermen To Serve At Inn

City Council Members Asked to Help in Serving Food to Hungry

Alderman R. T. Williams dished out the jam and bread the coffee at Sunshine Inn on Sunday morning.

This was revealed at the City Council meeting yesterday evening when an appeal was made by Dr. Hunter to have members of the aldermanic board take turns every Sunday morning in helping with the serving at the institution.

"After watching them, you will realize that nobody in the city needs to go hungry," he said.

Although the breakfast served on Sunday morning was better than he himself had had at home, the average cost of meals was kept down to 7 cents, Alderman Hunter said.

Alderman Williams said the inn was operated with the lowest overhead cost of any concern in the city, and Alderman W. D. Todd also made reference to the good work it is doing, mentioning the earnest endeavors of Capt. B. J. Gadsden in making it a success.

Festival Planned
For Dahlia Week

Plans for making Dahlia Week, next September, a big event in the life of the city were unfolded to the City Council yesterday evening by the parks committee.

Full co-operation will be given the Victoria Dahlia Society in making the affair a success, and $50 was set aside for prize money in connection with the event. It is proposed to give these awards for the best window display of dahlias and for the best dahlia garden.

The suggestion has also been made that baskets of dahlias be placed at street corners and that general window display of these flowers be encouraged.

DISRESPECTFUL TERMS LOSE FORCE UNDER PARENTAL STRATEGY

Are you perplexed by some phase of baby's feeding or behavior? Mrs. Eldred will be glad to help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your letter.

There is a period about the fourth year when children suddenly spout a new and rather shocking vocabulary picked up from older playmates and used with all the force and annoyance of a pop gun.

TEMPORARY SUPERIORITY

Words are new and exciting things to children. They become even more exciting if the response they get from parents and playmates is a gratifying one. Younger children copy from older ones the courageous attitudes which make it possible to use belittling designations of those in authority. "Nuts" and "dumb-bell" are favorite terms by which the child, with little effort, becomes for the moment superior to those around him and momentarily victorious over them. What mother but resents in no uncertain way such a disrespectful estimate of herself?

Instead of responding with anger and sarcasm or punishment, weapons which encourage the child's continued use of such language, the mother may use other more successful methods. Laughter is devastating. "That's a new one," says the parent good-humoredly, "where did you learn that one?" The thrust then loses all force. Being called a "dumb-bell" does not "get mother's goat" or what you will. Instead it amuses her. As ammunition the term is a dud.

HOME STANDARDS

If the child is accustomed to being addressed with courtesy by the parent, he will respond to the reasonable reminder that he should not talk to mother that way. Children may use such terms with each other, just as fun, but children talk to mother and father, and other adults with courtesy, as adults talk to children.

When children are forgetful of their manners and are bad-temperedly disrespectful to adults an immediate dismissal from the room is usually effective. Forcing the child to make an apology under threat of punishment arouses only bitter resentment, and does not end the desire to take down these smart alecky adults. But the loss of an audience and the child's own feeling of shame and unhappiness are conducive to a determination not to repeat that mistake. Such events can be talked over later when both parent and child are in a mood to be reasonable and explanatory.

HOW about putting an extra $250 in your pocketbook? Name this Magic Mystery Cake. Perhaps you'll win that big prize!

Miss M. McFarlane worked out the recipe for this month's mystery cake. It's simple and economical. You'll like its delicious flavor, too! Read the recipe through. Then try to think of the very best name you can to describe it.

Better still—make the cake yourself, if you like. And be sure to do as Miss McFarlane advises—use Magic Baking Powder. Other well-known Canadian food experts share Miss McFarlane's high opinion of Magic. In fact, the majority of them use and recommend Magic exclusively because it gives consistently better results.

Make up your mind to enter this Magic Mystery Cake contest right now. Try to win one of the 63 cash prizes.

Here's Miss M. McFarlane's Recipe . . . can you name it?

½ cup butter
1 cup sugar (granulated)
2 cups pastry flour (or 1½ cups bread flour)
3 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup strong coffee (strained and cold)
3 whites
Cream butter thoroughly; add gradually sugar creaming well with butter. (Note:—It is the thorough beating and blending of these first ingredients that lay the foundation of the final texture of your cake.) Measure dry ingredients—sift together twice. Add dry ingredients alternately with the strained cold coffee. Beat thoroughly until all ingredients are evenly blended. Add chopped walnuts. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour batter into greased pans—filling only two-thirds full. Bake in oven 350° F. for 25 minutes.

FROSTING: Have ready 1 cup icing sugar (or more). Cream 3 tablespoons butter with 2 tablespoons of this sugar; add 2 tablespoons strong coffee. Sift remaining sugar with 1 tablespoon cocoa (dry). Add to butter. Beat till light and fluffy. Taste. To have icing with a smooth glaze—use liquid hot.)

"The Tangle"

A Novel by

H. LAWRENCE PHILLIPS

Author of "Cap'n Benny" and "A Friendless Millionaire"

The Colonel's scheme took some time explaining and discussing and it was dark before matters were finally settled to their mutual satisfaction. Gray rose and declared that unless he hurried off he would be late for the choir practice.

"Wait a moment, padre; Tom and I will stroll so far with you and meet the wife." He opened the door and called his son, who quickly answered in person.

"Has your mother gone, Tom?"

"Only a few minutes ago."

"Put on your hat, then, and we will walk along with the padre and meet her."

The three set out at rather a jaunty pace, and stopped at the entrance to the lane which led to the house of the Colonel's wife.

"Ladies—see the place where Mrs. Lisle and her sister lived named."

It lay some way back from the road, and occupied a secluded position, being hidden by a tall hedge and some trees from the highway.

Gray bade the Colonel and his son farewell, and hurried off thinking what an attractive pair they were, and mentally comparing them with Shadwell.

Nearing the church he passed the man who was in his thoughts, and called out his usual cheery "Goodnight," but received no answer. Somewhat astonished, he looked around to see whether he had been mistaken in his man, for it was now dark and he had only been able to see him indistinctly; he could, however, only see the bare outline of his figure, which appeared in height certainly that of Shadwell. Struggling his shoulders at the apparent rudeness with which his greeting had been received, he forgot the incident until subsequent developments recalled it to him.

The practice was a short one, and had not been long in progress before the sound of a car set him speculating as to its meaning, for he knew that cars were few and far between at Culmeane, situated as it was some miles off the main line of traffic and forming a sort of cul-de-sac. However, the choir achieved a worse discord than usual at this point, and his wandering thoughts were recalled to present duties.

But when the practice was over, and he and the organist were walking home, he endeavored to satisfy his curiosity.

"I thought I heard a car soon after we began—whose was it, I wonder?"

"I thought I heard one," replied his companion. "Mrs. Lisle's sister, Miss Dehnam, and Sweetnam are the only ones that possess such things in these parts. I suppose it was either one of them, or Mr. Chaffey's car from Castleton bringing a visitor out."

"Ah, perhaps so," said the Vicar, beginning to fill his pipe, and then offering his pouch to his companion, who accepted it and followed his example.

They had arrived near the spot where Gray had left the Colonel and his son, at the entrance to the lane off which the house of Mrs. Lisle lay, and stopped for a moment while the Vicar struck a match, which he offered to Blake to light his pipe at. As he did so he heard the sound of steps hurried, yet furtive, in the lane. Just then a gust of air blew the match out, and Gray struck another, by the gleam of which they caught sight of a man—they were sure of that—who gave a slight exclamation, it seemed one of alarm, at the sudden flare of the match, and walked off hastily into the darkness away from them, ignoring their call of "Good-night."

"Who was that, Blake?" Gray asked, as he shielded the light from the wind and Blake successfully lit his pipe.

"I couldn't see," Blake answered. "One of the farm hands, I expect."

"He didn't look like one," the Vicar observed.

"Then a visitor from Mrs. Lisle's?"

"It may be so. Anyway, he didn't seem to be very cordial. But somehow his build seemed familiar."

"Did you think so? I couldn't see much in the dark. But I must hurry off, or I shall catch it when I get home. You see I am not a happy bachelor like yourself." Blake laughed as he said "Good-night" and turned up the path to his house, leaving the Vicar to pursue his way in solitary state.

He was in no hurry, as Blake had said, there was no one to call him to account for any delay in returning. He thought of the words as he sauntered on, not without a certain amount of envy as he compared his solitary condition with that of his late companion; then he began wondering vaguely about the man they had encountered.

"I wonder who he was. A pretty sulky sort of fellow anyway; yet I am certain I know him, but can't fix him."

One set of thoughts suggested others as they were wont to do, and he was thinking that it was not wise for Mrs. Lisle and her sister to live alone as they did, when he arrived at his gate. As he was about to open it, he caught the sound of steps coming along the road he had passed, and a big, burly figure became visible, and a bluff, hearty voice called out "Good-evening."

Recognizing the voice Gray turned as he replied in hearty tones.

"That you, Doctor? What on earth are you doing at this time of night?"

"You ought to know by this time that we doctors are both night and day birds; we are not like the lucky persons who can go to bed by the clock with the certainty that they will not be disturbed until the usual hour."

A heart laugh accompanied the words. Dr. Meier was a comparatively recent comer to the neighborhood, having taken a house some two miles away from Culmeane. It was understood that he was a wealthy man, and that he gave one the impression of power, both physical and mental. Standing rather over six feet, and broad in proportion, he must have been a fine athlete in his younger days; now he appeared a trifle fleshy in the body as in the face. That was, however, finely moulded, and crowned by a mass of iron-grey hair; the eyes were rather sombre, light grey in color, tending to show a slight cast when they were concentrated on those of another. He was on friendly terms with Gray, as with the people in the village generally.

"Come inside and have a cup of coffee and a pipe. Where's your car?"

"Just along the road," replied the doctor. "But I'll be glad of your coffee."

"Come along then," said the Vicar, leading the way.

The two men entered the house, and were soon seated opposite each other with a cup of coffee by the side of each man, and pipes going well.

"And when of your parishioners has had the benefit of your services this evening, doctor?" inquired the Vicar.

"Only old Mrs. Franks."

"Nothing but the old woman's fancies and inactive liver. The latter induced a bilious attack, and the former diagnosed cancer." The doctor laughed heartily, and the Vicar joined in the laugh.

"Poor soul, I must get down to-morrow to see her."

"Don't hurry to do that, Vicar; the old soul will be quite right again in the morning, and be able to get away to see her son as she intended."

Horoscope

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 1933

Adverse influences are also active. It is a time to be careful.

In the early morning the judgment should be good and the foresight trustworthy. It is a day for suspicious planning.

Weddings should be lucky to-day, for the stars presage a long partnership and there is no sign of possible divorce.

Under this planetary government there may be hasty marriages that meet disaster from ill-considered relatives. It is wise to resist the temptation to ignore parental authority.

There is a sign of promise for musical festivals and for public assemblies at which fine arts are stressed.

Theatrical performers are subject to fortunate pianist guidance. University students may expect success in college plays.

Farmers may find much to discourage them while this planetary rule continues. Weather as well as trade may be unsatisfactory.

Saturn is in a place rather threatening to those who depend on the land for support, but the stars indicate that there will be a return to agriculture as a profitable calling.

One of the remarkable legions to be employed in 1933 in the Far East will affect serious warfare it is predicted.

Investigation regarding methods of conducting prisons, asylums and other institutions will cause widespread indignation, as rogues' prognostications.

Juniper and Neptune are in aspects said to increase interest in peace pacts and disarmament. Great Britain will lead in advocating radical policies if the stars are rightly read.

The most serious conflict between the stars to settle international difficulties by war and the desire to encourage world-peace.

Warnings to given that selfish interests based on greed may stimulate the need of arms and munitions in Europe and the Pacific States.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the tendency to be ambitious and able to overcome opposition in the way of attaining their desires.

Frank Stockton writer was born in this day 1834.

Uncle Wiggily and the Pig's Whistle

By HOWARD R. GARIS

When Uncle Wiggily hopped out from beneath the tree from which and dropped what he thought was an April shower, the rabbit gentleman heard a funny noise.

"My goodness! What's that?" he whispered watching the drops of water dribble off his umbrella.

Again Mr. Longears heard the strange noise. It was a whistle.

"I never heard of whistling. April showers before," said the bunny uncle. The wind whistles when it blows around the corner of my bungalow but there is no wind-blowing now, and I don't see how it only rains when I am under a tree and when the sun is shining."

Of course, you know how it was, for I told you in the story last night. Buster, Custer and all the brother rabbits had hidden up in trees, with low branches, beneath which Uncle Wiggily would hop on his way to seek a venture. Each rabbit boy had a rubber ball filled with water and as Uncle sounded. The bunny boys, hiding in the trees with rubber balls filled with water, wondered what it was all about.

"I wish Daddie would hop along under my tree so I could sprinkle water on him," said Buster. Duster, Custer, Puster, Wuster and all the other trick-playing rabbits said the same thing.

But Uncle Wiggily had forgotten all about the strange April showers. He had even let down his umbrella and was looking at the pig's whistle carefully.

"Do you know what, Twisty?" said Mr. Longears.

"No, what?" asked the pig.

"I'm going to get a whistle for my tail," said Uncle Wiggily. "Come on and help me pick it out. We'll both go on a whistling adventure."

"Well, I guess this is the end of our April shower joke," said Buster as he and his brothers hopped down out of the trees with their rubber balls still filled with water, and hurried on to school. "Daddie would fool us instead of us fooling him, although I did stink him a little."

And what happened next I'll tell you to-morrow night when the story will be about Uncle Wiggily's whistling class. And hope the carpenter will go down to the 6 and 7-cent store and get a new hat for the head of the nail. That is if he can find one small enough. And now we shall say good night and happy dreams and get all ready for the next story.

Musical Festival Opens Brightly

NEWS IN BRIEF

Members of the Kiwanis Club will be hosts to the Elks at a bridge party in the latter's quarters on Friday evening.

The monthly meeting of the Saanich Welfare Association will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:45 o'clock in Tillicum School.

The Kiwanis Club discussion group will hold its first meeting to-morrow evening at the home of Dr. A. J. Gray, Beverley Place, at 8 o'clock.

J. A. Harrison, assistant treasurer, was appointed by the City Council yesterday evening to act as city treasurer during the annual vacation of the treasurer.

The Victoria Relief Department will pay $5 a pint and 10¢ a quart for milk on relief orders after this date. Tenders for supplying milk were previously called, but they will be returned and milk purchased on the rate mentioned.

William Downes, entomologist of the Department of Agriculture, will be the speaker at the regular meeting of the Victoria Horticultural Society this evening at the City Hall, at 8 o'clock. In view of the increasing number of species which are becoming so prevalent, the speaker has taken for his topic "Insect Pests, How to Spray and What to Spray for." As this should be of interest to all gardeners, an invitation to anyone interested to attend the meeting is extended by the society.

Rockland Park W.C.T.U. met yesterday at the home of Mrs. L. Ellis, 2815 Prior Street. Mrs. John Hall, the president, was in charge. Billed guests given by Mrs. P. Higgs and Miss Agnes Sproule led in prayer. Standing tributes of sympathy were passed for four members who have been bereaved: Mrs. C. E. Souley, Mrs. H. W. Agnes, Mrs. L. Lovatt Sr., and Mrs. George Henderson. The president reminded members to be prepared for the sixth annual bazaar, to be held at the Sunday school. Mrs. Loudon sang with much feeling "The Old Rugged Cross" and "In the Garden." Mrs. Henderson also delighted the guests with piano selections. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostesses, who were assisted by Mrs. Fred Ellis and Mrs. F. G. Giller. The meeting for May will be held at the home of Mrs. James Hood.

At their dinner last yesterday evening in Spencer's dining room, workers heard Mayor David Leeming add further words of support to their campaign.

"I cannot imagine any man in public office not being behind the Y.M.C.A. movement. If it were not for the Y.M.C.A. and similar institutions, the world would be in far worse state today. They are to be commended for doing as much as they do towards the stabilization of Christian thought at a period when it is most needed among the young men of our country."

It has done great work for the city and the city appreciates it," the mayor continued, noting the annual civic grant to the institution proved his statement.

ON SAFE GROUND
 The association was on very safe ground in asking the public for support of such a worthy cause, he declared.

F. E. Winslow, chairman of the committee in charge of the campaign, spoke of the various features of the drive. "It may seem possible," he remarked, "that people interested in the association's work and wishing to contribute to its maintenance might not be contacted during the canvass. Any wishing to aid the association financially could send in donations to the Y.M.C.A. office and specify which department he or she wished the money to assist."

E. D. Otter, of the National Council of Y.M.C.A.s at Toronto, outlined final plans for the campaign, for which he is acting as supervisor.

SHOW ENTHUSIASM
 He voiced his appreciation of the enthusiasm shown by the workers as evidenced in their attendance at the dinner. Mr. Otter referred to the part of the Y.M.C.A. programme which gave young men a constructive way to follow not usually touched in ordinary relief and welfare work.

At the close of the meeting, each worker was given a list of names of men to interview.

The Kiwanis orchestra presented musical selections during the dinner. At the close of the meeting, the team captains and workers will meet at the Y.M.C.A. for dinner at 6 o'clock. At that meeting they will go over the campaign to date and will hear full final suggestions for the closing days of the drive.

LAST RITES ARRANGED
 The funeral of Mrs. Mary Isabella McQueen will take place to-morrow afternoon, the cortege leaving the Sands Mortuary Chapel at 1:40 o'clock and at 2 o'clock services will be conducted at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, by Canon A. E. de L. Knox. Interment will be in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

British Columbia growers hope home industry will grow

A sharp rise in the price of hops on the other side of the boundary has buoyed up the hopes of B.C. growers and growers who are receiving a fair price for their product.

British Columbia brewers have been using one-third Oregon, one-third British Columbia and one-third British Columbia hops in their plants, and the huge demand for the commodity across the line will mean a big increase in their cost, owing to the exchange and higher prices now prevailing. In 1931 there were 1,239,250 pounds grown in the province, valued at $326,000, but while the acreage planted in 1927 was 1,000 acres, it dropped to 600 acres last year and the growers who were holding for thirty cents a pound were unable to find a market. There is a duty of twenty-four cents on hops entering the United States.

With the Coast hopfields again planted, British Columbia growers look for increased demand for their product from British Columbia brewers, who are preparing for greater acreage this year.

Mathews, Hotel Manager, Promoted
 Montreal, April 4.—H. F. Mathews, general manager, Canadian Pacific hotels in western Canada, with headquarters at Winnipeg, has been promoted to the post of general manager of the company's hotel system from coast to coast, with headquarters in Montreal, according to an announcement here today by E. W. Beatty, chairman and president. Mr. Mathews brings a wide experience gained in thirty-four years of service with the company at his new position. The change follows the recent retirement of Andrew Allerton, formerly general manager of the company's hotels in eastern Canada.

Piano Players and Young Vocalists In Inaugural Classes

Dorcas Muir, Victoria, and Muriel M. Jarvis, Duncan, Win First Prizes
ADJUDICATORS ARE ACCLAIMED

Finalists Picked For Boys' Vocal and Open Pianoforte Competitions

The seventh annual Victoria Musical Festival, "the International Festival of the Pacific Northwest," opened early this morning under bright auspices in the First United and First Baptist Churches. The vocal and piano forte competitions enabled all three adjudicators from Great Britain: Dr. J. Frederick Staton, George Dodds and York Bowen, to make their first bows before the public, which signified its appreciation of their sincerity and fine musicianship by applauding them at each one of their appearances.

In First United Church, there were over thirty vocalists under thirteen years of age in the two classes competing this morning. The vocal solo class for boys under thirteen, to be judged as a team with accompaniment, boy or girl, also under thirteen, attracted many pairs. The number of girls who will contest the final in the same church to-night are John V. Routley and Dorcas Muir, Leslie Douglas Clark and Peggy Sedgman, and Howard Barst and Nancy Kyle. Vocalists also named in every case. Howard Barst also accompanied for two other entrants.

Dr. Staton, in adjudicating this class, pointed out an encouragement of team work. One great weakness, he had found, was piano accompaniment, and it was an all-important factor. Dr. Staton pointed out the need for getting beautiful sounds first and then attaching the words to them. In singing, he observed, there must be bone, implying that words must be enunciated clearly. Taking the analogy of a piece of fish, he emphasized that consonants must not be "filleted."

DUNCAN GIRLS WIN
 Two of Duncan's young girls were first and second in the vocal solo class for girls under thirteen. Muriel M. Jarvis was top with 88, and Marygold Nash second with 86. There were over twenty competitors.

George Dodds, who adjudicated this class, while serving as a Canadian soldier in the battle line in France. They testified the effects stuck with him for over ten years until he finally hospitalized.

A Patterson, Nanaimo mine boss, took the stand and testified as to how before the war there was nothing the matter with this returned soldier. "I saw him at the Reserve Mine here and he was a capable all-around worker."

"Naturally he was, seeing that he was a Scotsman," said Col. Peck. The tribunal adjourned the hearing on this case for further consideration.

MUSTARD GAS VICTIM
 A mother and wife of a Nanaimo miner came down to testify as to his complete nervous collapse which necessitated him being a permanent hospital patient. They applied for a pension because his collapse was attributable to the strain and suffering he had undergone while serving as a Canadian soldier in the battle line in France. They testified the effects stuck with him for over ten years until he finally hospitalized.

WITLEY CAMP PAYMASTER SUFFERED
 Staff Quartermaster Charles Pepper, formerly of Saskatchewan, took the stand to testify as to how Pay Sergeant James L. Bond of Edmonton had suffered from mustard gas while the two of them had charge of the pay office at Witley Camp in England during the war.

GALLANT OFFICER'S HEALTH DESTROYED
 Mrs. Nora Kathleen Purslow came from Courtenay to take the stand and testify as to how her husband, John E. Purslow, M.C. of the B.C. House, and former postmaster of Harbourside, Alta., that he was unable to regain his health after his return from overseas, and died in 1923. She asked for a pension for herself and her child.

As there was no doctor in attendance at the time of his death, Mr. Sedgman was unable to bring before the court any official record as to the cause of Capt. Purslow's death.

This gallant officer had a fine record of service, said Col. Peck. He was entitled to a little better chance here. We will strike this case from the present list to give you a chance to dig around and get some more evidence.

The tribunal handed down decision in the case of an applicant of yesterday asking a pension because of deafness and blindness, which were the result of a war wound of pre-war origin and not aggravated by war service.

Another decision in the case of a navy man asking for a pension because of tuberculosis allowed his claim as attributable to service.

The court will continue its sittings here for the rest of the week.

FUNERAL TO-MORROW
 Funeral services will be held from the Sands Mortuary Chapel to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The deceased was Elizabeth Nicol Baine, Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell will officiate and interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

ANCHOR MAN SEEKS PENSION

Had Leg Pulled Out When Army Defeated Navy in Tug-of-war at Rod Hill

Tribunal Hears of More Men Whose Health Was Shattered in War

When the Canadian army before a wildly cheering crowd at the Army-Navy sports at Rod Hill on September 1, 1924, defeated the Canadian navy in the tug-of-war championship, it did not realize that in its enthusiasm of victory it was permanently injuring Chief Engineer Petty Officer George A. Renton, who was the anchor man on the navy team.

One of his legs was pulled out so that he has applied for permanent pension for the loss of the free use of his leg.

To-day the story of the army-navy contest was told before the Pensions Tribunal sitting in the Court of Appeal chamber under Col. Cy. Peck, V.C., and Captain E. C. MacKenzie, Renton and other witnesses told how when the army got their opponents over the line the navy men let go, all except Renton in the anchor position, who could not get free because he was tangled in the rope.

"You were then trying to pull the whole army," asked Col. Peck.

"I did not know the rest of the navy boys had let go and I got pulled down by the anchor," said George A. Renton. "Before they stopped my whole leg was pulled out. It was part of my regular naval duty to pull on the team."

Chief Petty Officer James H. Temple, Chief Petty Officer Henry Lamb, and Medical Petty Officer Peter Gieve were all called to the witness stand by the tribunal.

Col. Peck announced the tribunal's decision would be rendered at a later date.

MINER BECOMES NERVOUS
 A mother and wife of a Nanaimo miner came down to testify as to his complete nervous collapse which necessitated him being a permanent hospital patient. They applied for a pension because his collapse was attributable to the strain and suffering he had undergone while serving as a Canadian soldier in the battle line in France. Birthday Greetings Are Extended To-day To—

A. T. GOWARD, HUGH C. MOULNEUX, VICTOR ARD CLARKE, ELMER G. WHITTEN, FRANCIS BAYLIS

Birthday greetings are extended to-day to Hugh C. Molyneux, formerly of Victoria and now residing at Atlin, B.C. Mr. Molyneux, a former member of the staff of H. E. Hunnings and Company Limited of this city, joined the provincial civil service in the fall of 1930 and was transferred to Atlin, where he now holds the position of deputy government agent and deputy commissioner. "Hughie," as he is best known to his many Victoria friends, received his education at the Boys' Central and Victoria High Schools, and is also a member of the Revelers' Club.

Bernard Clarke, who is to-day celebrating a birthday, is a native son and attended the Spanish High School. He is a trombone player in the Canadian Scottish band, and in the Victoria Boys' Band. He is an all-around athlete, being fullback for Spencer's football team. His favorite pastime is swimming.

Albert T. Goward, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Railway Company Ltd., is celebrating his sixty-first birthday to-day in the south. Mr. Goward, who has been enjoying a rest at Coronado Beach, Cal., is expected back at his office on Saturday. He is a native of Tenby, South Wales, and came to Victoria in 1890 as a conductor with the National Electric Tramway and Light Company Ltd., entered the office of the company in 1891 and was made local manager July 1, 1928, when the public utility was taken over by the B.C. Electric Railway Company Ltd.

Francis Baylis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Baylis, 330 Robertson Street, is celebrating his twenty-first birthday to-day. Francis served his apprenticeship to the building trade and is a keen motor cyclist, being a prominent member of the Victoria Motor Cycle Club.

Elmer George Whitten, member of the Victoria Circulation Department for the last twelve years, was a year older yesterday. Elmer is married and is the father of two fine daughters. He resides at 241 Howe Street.

Shortly after another cab arrived uncalled. Mr. Richardson became a trifle suspicious.

When the ambulance arrived in front of the house, his suspicions took definite shape.

When a third taxi arrived his suspicions gave place to perturbation.

And finally, when a 44 box of chocolates arrived, he reported on his findings to the department at Ottawa.

Nothing has since been done in respect to these proposals, although the Gardiner region north of Vancouver has been given a great deal of publicity, leading to the establishment of a park there.

The way things are now, it is unlikely that any action will be taken for some time, said Mr. Wardle. He added that he was in Victoria at the present time on departmental matters.

There are some minor points in parks matters that need adjustment and the engineer is here for that purpose. He saw Hon. N. S. Loughheed, Minister of Lands, at the Parliament Building, this morning, and plans to meet other members of the government during the day. He will be here for several days and will then return to Ottawa.

Japanese Admiral Visits Cenotaph

On behalf of the officers and crew of the Japanese training cruiser for the last twelve years, was a year older yesterday. Elmer is married and is the father of two fine daughters. He resides at 241 Howe Street.

Private funeral service will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for Ernest Liewin, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Richardson. Interment will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

BLIND MAN AND HIS DOG LEAD

Three Hundred Men, Women and Children Parade Through City To-day

Wait on Provincial Cabinet and Present Demands For Better Treatment

Led by a blind man, guarded by a magnificent police dog, 200 men, women, boys and girls carrying fifty banners, this afternoon marched through the city to the Parliament Buildings. The demonstration was organized as a hunger march to give emphasis to representations by a delegation which waited on the cabinet, demanding a 25 per cent increase in relief allowances, the right of single men sleeping and eating where they desire and non-contributory unemployment insurance on a scale providing full pay.

The parade formed at the intersection of Pandora Avenue and Blanchard Street, after hearing a number of brief addresses. Many spectators watched the proceedings. Four city police constables under Inspector Boulton, aided the procession by controlling traffic.

While waiting for the parade to start, many men sold copies of "Soviet Russia To-day," "The Canadian Labor Defender" and other publications. The banners carried ranged from elaborate paintings depicting soldiers and skeletons to huge posters announcing the programme of demands. Many demonstrators carried small signs such as "No Censorship," "Tax Bankers," "No Sugar" and "We Demand Free Textbooks."

The marchers paraded to the Parliament Buildings by way of Pandora, Douglas, Fort and Government Streets. Hans Kroeger, chief marshal, being assisted by twelve deputies. Prior to the commencement of the parade, general speeches were made by the demonstrators.

It was pointed out that the march repatriate with sidewalk spectators was to be avoided.

T. G. Goward, of Vancouver, chairman of the meeting, which preceded the march, declared that if any disorder or trouble occurred it would originate with the authorities, not with the marchers.

John Rusford of Prince Rupert said demonstrations were the only weapons remaining to the working class. Remarking that there were two types of demonstrations, peaceful or those causing riot, he said: "We will start nothing, but if the police start anything we will do our best to keep it up."

April Fooler A Trifle Late

Bond Street Resident Is Pestored by Taxi, Ambulance and Chocolates

Although April Fool's Day is passed, Frank Richardson, 1350 Bond Street, is convinced that someone does not know it.

Yesterday evening a taxi-cab arrived at his front door and the driver announced he had been telephoned to come. Mr. Richardson dismissed him and thought he had got the wrong house.

Shortly after another cab arrived uncalled. Mr. Richardson became a trifle suspicious.

When the ambulance arrived in front of the house, his suspicions took definite shape.

When a third taxi arrived his suspicions gave place to perturbation.

And finally, when a 44 box of chocolates arrived, he reported on his findings to the department at Ottawa.

BAPTISTS HEAR REV. E. F. CHURCH

A large gathering attended the meeting of the Women's Union of the First Baptist Church held in the church parlour yesterday afternoon.

Reports were given by the officers, and the chairman of the various groups, Mrs. C. H. Haverstock, Mrs. B. J. Carter and Mrs. E. Middleton, all showing much activity and progress in the various branches of work.

Mrs. A. E. Taylor, the president, was in the chair, and Mrs. G. W. Bradshaw led the opening devotional period. Reports were given by the officers, and the chairman of the various groups, Mrs. C. H. Haverstock, Mrs. B. J. Carter and Mrs. E. Middleton, all showing much activity and progress in the various branches of work.

Haverstock, Mrs. B. J. Carter and Mrs. E. Middleton, all showing much activity and progress in the various branches of work.

He has seen the city develop in many directions, while in the civic service, and has put official approval on plans for many of the well-known structures about the city. He supervised the construction of the new fair buildings at the Willows grounds.

Mr. Barf's retirement will be effective at the end of April.

Funeral To-morrow Of Aged Resident

Funeral services will be held from the Thomson Funeral Home to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for Mrs. Elizabeth German, widow of Rev. Orrin German, who passed away on Sunday at the family residence, 1741 Davie Street, aged eighty-seven years. Mrs. German was born in Ontario and had been a resident of Victoria for twenty-seven years.

She is survived by her daughter, Miss M. German, at home, and one brother, Rev. George W. Dean, Salt Spring Island.

Rev. E. F. Church will conduct the services, assisted by Rev. J. C. Switzer. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

MUSIC TALK IS ENJOYED

Ira Dilworth Gives Address to Young People of First United Church

Illustrating his points by playing gramophone records from well-known masters, Ira Dilworth gave an address on "The Appreciation of Music" to members of the First United Church Young People's Society in the Sunday school room yesterday evening.

Mr. Dilworth explained the appeal of music in the beauty of its composition and the building of the theme in the blending of the melody and descriptive beauty. Mr. Dilworth played "On Wings of Song" (Mendelssohn), "Great Fugue in G Minor" (Bach), selections from the "Grand Canyon Suite" (Grove), and "Dance of the Fairies" from "Midsummer Night's Dream" (Mendelssohn).

Robert Wright on behalf of the society thanked Mr. Dilworth for his address.

The devotional period was taken by Miss Margaret Jaynes, who spoke on the life of Schubert. Miss Marjorie Watson, accompanied at the piano by Miss Jessie Smith, sang Schubert's "Ave Maria."

W. T. Strath gave a comprehensive survey of current events, covering international affairs, sports, financial news and matters of general interest.

Rev. Dr. W. O. Wilson, spoke to the society on the subject of the Oxford Group Movement, stating that plans were being made to carry on the work started by the group which visited the city recently.

It was announced on Good Friday that the society would have a picnic at a secret destination, and anyone wanting to take part could register with Gordon Hobson as soon as possible.

SUGAR TAX WILL HURT FRUIT MEN

Saanich Board of Trade to Protest New Federal Levy

The new sugar taxes will be disastrous to growers of small fruits, by compelling price increases and reduced consumption, the Saanich Board of Trade yesterday evening agreed at a meeting held at the Institute Hall, Brentwood Bay. A resolution of protest will be sent to Hon. E. M. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, and other members of the Dominion cabinet.

The suggestion of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, that the Dominion government extend to lumber exports to Britain the benefits of its proposed pound stabilization operations, was endorsed.

Changing the name of Long Beach, near Alberni, will be protested, at the instance of the Alberni Board of Trade.

The members voted in favor of enforcement of the railway reorganization recommendations submitted by the Duff commission, the vote being taken at the instance of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

Capt. H. B. Babinington reported progress with a proposed park and bathing pool near the Indian Reserve.

"Y" WORKERS COVER CITY

Men Assisting in Campaign of Association Seek Donations

Need Funds to Carry on Valuable Work Conducted at Local Branch

On a mission to raise funds which will enable the Y.M.C.A. to carry on without cutting down its youth leadership work, approximately ninety agents were canvassing the city on the second day of the association's annual financial campaign to-day.

Results of the opening drive on Monday, reported yesterday evening at a big rally of workers, showed $1,299 to have been collected. The objective is $10,000.

Canadian Boy Rides Gallant Sir to Victory at Agua Caliente

Pick Washington and Pittsburgh to Top Ball Leagues

Mercer Beasley Is Proving Maker of Tennis Champions

CANADIAN turf followers will be interested to learn that George Woolf, who rode Gallant Sir to victory and a new track record in the Agua Caliente Handicap at the famed Mexican track on Sunday, hails from Cardston, Alberta. Woolf took up residence in Calgary in 1927 when his father became manager of the breeding farm of Fred Johnson, noted Calgary sportsman and breeder of thoroughbreds. Johnson gave young Woolf his first contact in 1928, and later Woolf went with L. C. Whitehill as a rider. He was a free lance for awhile last year before joining up with Norman W. Church, owner of Gallant Sir. Woolf is twenty-two years of age.

With the opening of the major league baseball season only a few days away much speculation is taking place on just how the clubs will finish this year's campaign. One prominent baseball expert has picked the teams to finish in the following order:

American National
Washington Pittsburgh
New York Chicago
Cleveland Boston
Detroit New York
Philadelphia Philadelphia
Chicago Brooklyn
St. Louis St. Louis
Boston Cincinnati

Washington, with fine hitting, splendid defense and good pitching, appears to be the best club in baseball. The New York Yankees are uncertain because of the advanced age of players at important points. Cleveland needs another good defensive outfielder and a left-handed pitcher. Detroit showed flashes of promise last year and has improved in attack this season. The Philadelphia Athletics will be a contender, and Dykes. The Chicago White Sox, one of the most improved teams in the league, should nose out St. Louis for sixth place. Boston lacks adequate defense.

In the National League the Pittsburgh Pirates seem sure of the flag. The team was a little out of the stretch because of weakness against left-handed pitchers and Manager Gibson has large corrected that fault by adding Lefty Williams. The New York Giants are weak in the box, and Manager Terry is experimenting with several positions. Philadelphia and Brooklyn suffer the same need—pitchers. The Yankees have the pitchers, the rest of the ball club doesn't measure up so well. Cincinnati just hasn't enough ball players.

A maker of tennis champions, that is what Mercer Beasley, coach of the Tulane University tennis team, has proven to be. Beasley has not been without a national champion for seven straight years. He is a record no other professional tennis instructor can match.

Louise MacFarland of Pasadena was his first champion. She won the United States girls' championship in 1926, and the following year annexed the national women's hard court championship.

Miss Marjorie Gladman, now Mrs. John Van Ryn, was Beasley's second champion. She won the United States girls' championship in 1927.

Ellsworth Vines brought him championship number three when he shared the United States junior doubles title in 1928. Next came Frankie Parker, sensation of 1929.

Cliff Sutter of Tulane contributed the United States Intercollegiate championship in 1930, and in 1931 Vines and Parker both came through. Vines won the United States singles crown and Parker reigned over the United States boys' singles group.

Last year "Beasley boys" claimed three United States championships—Vines, Sutter and Parker. The following year they won the second straight year. Parker, junior singles champion, and Sutter, intercollegiate singles. In addition, Miss Carolyn Babcock, another pupil, proved the sensation of the United States women's tournament in which she was runner-up to Miss Helen Jacobs.

Beasley never has played a match in a big tournament. He once played a fair match in 1925. He became scarce after the war for a civil engineer. He turned to tennis as a profession. At that time, in 1919, he practiced long with Bill Tilden in Philadelphia and from this association learned much about the game.

McKinnon Elected To B.C. Track Body

Achieve McKinnon, physical director of the Victoria Y.M.C.A. and leading track and field authority in Victoria, was elected to the executive of the British Columbia Track and Field Association at a recent meeting in Vancouver.

Announcement of his election was contained in a letter received at the Y.M.C.A. today.

"We hope that you will be able to encourage more track and field clubs and track and field generally in and around Victoria," the letter concluded.

An executive meeting of the Capital District Carpet Bowling League will be held to-night at the Victoria Hall at 8 o'clock, when matters of interest to the league generally will be dealt with.

Doraty's Counter Ends Hockey Duel After Five Hours

Six Overtime Periods Are Necessary to Determine Stanley Cup Finalist

Oppose New York Rangers To-night

Game Lasts 164 Minutes 46 Seconds; Thompson and Chabot Brilliant in Nets

Toronto, April 4.—Victors in an epic marathon of the ice that stretched over more than five hours, Toronto Maple Leafs basked to-day in the warming glow of triumph—still kings.

Shooting for a second straight world hockey championship, the Leafs defeated Boston Bruins, 1 to 0, early this morning in the longest hockey game ever played, and before the largest crowd that ever saw an ice duel in Canada. It took the Stanley Cup holders 164 minutes forty-six seconds to oust the Bruins from title contention.

When blond little Ken Doraty, third-string right winger, belted an anti-high shot into the Boston cage after picking up a fast forward pass from Andy Blair to break up the battle a few minutes before 2 a.m., it meant Toronto's squad was pitched into another world championship series with New York Rangers. Less than two hours after they had finished with the Bruins, the Leafs took a special train for New York, where to-night they play Rangers in the first game of the best-of-five series for the Stanley Cup. A year ago they humbled the Bruins in three straight.

FOUR OVERTIME GAMES
Dozens of scoring thrusts had failed to pierce the armor of Tiny Thompson in the Boston nets and dozens more had been fended off by Lorne Chabot, Toronto custodian, when the lanky Leafs teamed with the tiny Doraty to post the game's only goal and give the Leafs three victories in the five-game series. Four of the games went into overtime.

The sixth overtime period was barely started when Blair was sent out to play special attention to Eddie Shore, pivot of the Bruins offensive corps. The former University of Manitoba star checked the great defence, and on his third attempt shore batted the puck away from him—right on Blair's stick.

Two long strides Andy crossed the blue line into Bruin territory. With a quick shot he aimed at the net. The puck struck shore and as the Bruins rearguard swung around to jab at the puck, Blair shot it ahead to Doraty. The winger called it in his stride and skated in on Thompson to fire it into a corner of the net.

BROKE ALL RECORDS
When they started the sixth overtime session, the team broke every hockey endurance record. Sprinfield Indians and Boston Cubs of the Canadian-American League held the previous mark. They played 160 minutes to a 2 to 2 tie in 1931. Montreal Canadiens and the Rangers held the major league record of 138 minutes; 52 seconds, set in the 1921 playoff.

Proposals of varied hues to cut short the longest struggle of them all, 100 minutes overtime had been played. The players were so tired and attacks lacked steam to a degree where President Frank Calder of the N.H.L. called Managers Art Ross, Boston, and Conny Smythe, Toronto, into a conference.

The crowd, hungry to see a finish, clapped hands in unison at the delay as President Calder considered a joint proposal by Ross and Smythe to flip a coin to decide which team entered the final game after the Rangers. He vetoed that one.

Then Calder suggested the goal-tenders be taken out of the game to facilitate scoring of the winning goal. But Ross and Smythe could not see that idea. The president also turned down the Toronto manager's suggestion. (Turn to Page 13, Col. 2.)

REGINA AND NEWMARKET OPEN FINALS TO-NIGHT

Both Teams Confident of Capturing Canadian Junior Hockey Championship in Series at Toronto; Will Be Best Three Out of Five Games

Toronto, April 4.—Regina Patriots, carrying on a great hockey tradition, and Newmarket Redmen, who became famous almost overnight as they ground out victory over victory in a sensational quest of the east this spring, were strangely silent to-day on the eve of the Memorial Cup final.

Big Bill Hancock, with thoughts of the injuries that have crippled him, Redmen, hoped this band would be "ready as possible" for the first game of the best-out-of-three series. To-night, the Regina Patriots will meet the Newmarket Redmen in the first game of the series.

RANGERS GIVEN 6 TO 5 CHOICE OVER TORONTO

New York Club Favored to Win Opening Game of Stanley Cup To-night

Leafs Will Be Leg-weary After Long Game With Boston; Johnson Cut

New York, April 4.—Winners of the longest hockey game on record, Toronto Maple Leafs sped toward New York this morning for the opening clash of the Stanley Cup final against the New York Rangers here to-night.

The great victory over Boston Bruins, the National Hockey League championship, but it left them in doubtful physical condition for the first Cup clash with the speedy Rangers. Immediately after Doraty's game-winning shot the Leafs dashed for a special train for New York and they hardly will be at their best to-night.

The Rangers, at any rate, were pronounced 6 to 5 favorites, not only because of Toronto's grueling series with Boston, but because of their own splendid showing against Montreal Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings in the Cup playdowns. The Blueshirts whipped the Canadiens in their two-game total goal third-place series, 8 to 6, and turned back the sensational Red Wings in the Cup semi-finals, 6 to 3.

TWO DAYS' REST
They have had two full days of rest since beating Detroit on Sunday night and are certain to be in much better shape than the Leafs.

Toronto, however, it may fare in the opening game, will have the advantage of playing all the rest of the Cup finals on their home ice. After to-night's fray, Madison Square Garden will be taken over by a many-ringed circus for the last game of the series. If that many are needed—will be played in Toronto's back yard.

Despite the heat of the Detroit-Boston series, the Blueshirts are in good condition. Ching Johnson, their defence star of games already played, came back from the Motor City looking as though a horse had kicked him in the forehead. Eddie Goodfellow, a stick caught him in the last victorious start against Detroit and left a scar that curves in a vivid crescent from his left eye to near his left ear. Looking back on previous games the curly western Canadian played with a special steel protector to guard his brow and jaw bone. A comparatively minor thing like a facial wound, which required five stitches to close, should not be bothersome.

ARGUES WITH DOCTOR
On his return here his chin said he didn't so much mind the inflicting of the wound as he did the fact the Detroit doctor first assigned to stitch it, gave him an argument as to the wisdom of stitching it at all. The doctor thought it was a case of Ching's defiance, and he ended up by demanding another doctor to do the task.

Leafs were due to arrive in New York aboard their special flyer early this afternoon. Their schedule no doubt will be complete rest until the puck is dropped before a sold-out house, to start another series for the battered old Cup.

It was considered possible that the usual starting time of 8:45 p.m. might be scrapped for an earlier hour in order that the weary Cup defenders might gain an extra hour of rest before taking the ice.

Probable line-ups for to-night's game are:
Rangers—Aitkenhead; E. Seibert, Johnson; Boucher, W. Cook, F. Cook; Sub: Somers, Brennan, A. Seibert, Murdoch; Keeling, O'Donnell, Pettigrew, Dillon and Heller.

Toronto—Chabot; Day, Clancy; Bailey, Cotton, Sande, Sub: Horner, Sevin, Prinsau, Chasner, Jackson, Thoma, Blair, Grace and Doraty.

praise-singers yesterday morning with his Pats, champion of the west, he thought himself Toronto must have reason to speak the crimson so readily and commented briefly.

"We are in good shape, though we've had a pretty tough time getting this far. The boys are confident, they will give Newmarket a real battle."

Pats, conquerors of Calgary Jimmies and Brandon Native Sons on their way to the western championship, worked out a few hours after their arrival here from Winnipeg. And they promptly suffered a casualty—Scotty Benson, defence star, receiving a cut over the eye during a skirmish. Several stitches were required to close the wound. But the Moose will team with Curly Kerr just the same in the first series battle.

Pats who watched Regina practice were impressed with the puck-stopping ability of Jimmy Franks in goal and the speed and all-round centre-line excellence of Alex Motter.

Officials of the Newmarket club were uncertain whether Preston, second-string winger, would be fit to play, but they were sure Howie Peterson, centre, would not be in action.

Blue Ribbons Plan For Western Final Against Union Jacks

Series Against Alberta Basketball Champions Will Be Staged at Willows.

Series Expected To Open April 12

Winner Will Meet Eastern Titleholders in Final For Canadian Championship

With the British Columbia championship safely tucked away and with it the right to represent this province in the Canadian basketball championship play-downs, the Blue Ribbons are busy with preparations for their forthcoming series with the Raymond Union Jacks, Alberta titleholders, in the western final in Victoria, with Manitoba definitely out of the competition owing to the recent accident to members of the Winnipeg Toilers, the Union Jacks have been named western finalists against the Blue Ribbons.

The Ribbons-Jacks series will be two out of three games with the winner meeting the eastern titleholders in the Canadian final. The first game is tentatively set for Victoria on April 12. The Blue Ribbons are making preparations to stage the game in the main building at the Willows. The floor is being put into first-class condition and bleachers erected. Bleachers will be built to accommodate 2,000 or more spectators. In view of the heavy financial obligations to be met with the staging of this series the Victoria team was forced to find more accommodation than that provided at the Victoria High School gym, the usual scene of games here.

The Ribbons intend to put on at least one exhibition game at the Willows previous to their series with the Jacks, in order to give the local players an opportunity to get accustomed to the new surroundings. The playing surface will be the same size as the High School gym.

KEEP IN SHAPE
From now until the date arrives for the first game with the Union Jacks members of the Ribbons are working out nearly every night. The boys are in perfect physical condition and are taking no chances of going stale.

Definite announcement that Manitoba would not participate in the Canadian play-offs was made in the following news dispatch sent out yesterday evening.

"Winnipeg, April 4.—Manitoba will not take part in the Dominion basketball championship play-offs, Al McLarnon, secretary of the Manitoba Amateur Basketball Association, announced yesterday evening. The tragic deaths of two members of the Toilers' squad, Manitoba titleholders, and the injury to other members of the team in the Kansas plane crash last Friday, made the withdrawal necessary. Saskatchewan has defaulted, McLarnon said, and the western final will be between the Raymond Union Jacks, champions of Alberta, and Blue Ribbons, Victoria."

Gunners To Meet Bays In Final of Knockout Series

Ruggers Will Clash in Deciding Game of Cowichan Cup Play on Saturday

FIFTH BRIGADE PROMISES FIGHT

Hope to Give City Champions Run For Their Money in Match at Oak Bay

After tasting the bitterness of defeat in the final for the provincial club rugby championship last Saturday, James Bay Athletic Association seniors will try to end the season with a better flavor in their mouths as they strive for the sweets of victory against the Fifth Brigade in the Cowichan Cup final on Saturday. The game will probably be played at Oak Bay Park at 3 o'clock, with J. B. Acland in charge.

It will be the last club game of the season in the senior ranks, and will decide the champions of the knockout series in its first running. Next to Saturday's fixture the only major counter still on the bill is the exhibition fixture between Victoria and Vancouver reps here on Easter Monday, April 17. Following that, the executive class of the game will rally round for their annual pow-wow on April 21.

Capt. Doug Roberts is looking forward to seeing his boys give the Bays a run for their money in the fixture Saturday. His backfield is working well and his forwards have plenty of fight. Whether or not the latter will be strong enough to meet the challenge of the hunky Bays remains to be seen.

REP FULLBACK
As far as fullbacks are concerned, their part in the game should develop into a kicking duel between two top squad men. Roddy Melnes is slated for duty as last defence for the Gunners, while Bill Letta is expected to perform for the oarsmen. Both have held down berths on the local all-star squad with great credit.

Roberts will use Ken Fleming and Frank Gribble on the wings and Syd and Alex Gaunt inside on the three-quarter line. Frank Sellings is slated for five-eighths, with Wally Stupe directly behind the scrum.

For the pack, Bob Dickinson, Frank Johnson, Flen Stewart, Bert Buller, Bob Englem, Des Dowell and Doug Peden are lined up.

BEST NANAIMO
Last Sunday the artillerymen downed Nanaimo handsly and hope to give the city champions, who have not been defeated by a local squad, a good battle.

The Bays are expected to field the same team as that which battled the North Shore Bluffs last week.

The three-quarter line will most probably include Len Johnson, Brian Hunning, Pete Turgoose and Joe Addison. Chief backfielder, New Westminister, Chief John Cameron, Vancouver, J. R. Matson, Victoria, and C. P. Davis, Dunsmuir, honorary vice-presidents.

Baseballers Can Now Play Softball

Vancouver, April 4.—Baseball players will be allowed to perform with softball squads throughout the province this year following an amendment of the British Columbia Softball Association constitution passed at its annual meeting here. Athletes playing hard ball were barred from joining softball teams last season.

David Cochran, Dunsmuir, was elected to succeed R. R. Smith, as president of the body governing softball in the province. Smith, a former professional baseball player, was made vice-president.

L. Stock, Victoria, second vice-president, and Fred Wright, Vancouver, third vice-president, were elected. The returned as secretary for the fifth straight term. Honorary officers include: Premier S. P. Toimie, honorary president; Chief Justice, J. H. Miller; Minister, Chief John Cameron, Vancouver; J. R. Matson, Victoria, and C. P. Davis, Dunsmuir, honorary vice-presidents.

rumors were current that outfielder John (Pop) Martin and Jimmy McCony, southpaw pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals would join the Chicago Cubs in a trade involving Shortstop Mark Fricke (Shanley Thielens), Miller.

The Herald and Examiner have been under way since the Cub outfielder, Aaron (Kiki) Cyler, received a fractured right arm in an exhibition game at Los Angeles a week ago.

VICTORIA TEAM SELECTED TO TACKLE ST. ANDREWS

Pacific Coast League Inter-city Football Match Billed at Athletic Park on Saturday Afternoon; Second Division Game as Preliminary

Selection of the Victoria city team to meet St. Andrews, Vancouver, in a Pacific Coast Football League match, at the Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon, was made at a meeting of the local league yesterday evening. The match will commence at 3 o'clock. Starting at 1:45 o'clock, a second division fixture will be staged between the Victoria West and Victoria City.

The intercity team lineup follows:

Goal, Louis de Costa (Esquimalt); fullbacks, Joe Watt (Esquimalt), Fred Gibbons (Victoria City); halves, Ronnie Williams (Saanich Thistles), Tommy Smith (Saanich Thistles), Tommy Smith (Victoria City); forwards, Bob Stewart (Esquimalt), John Watt (Esquimalt), Freddy Price (Saanich Thistles), Miles Wagland (Esquimalt), Noel Morgan (Saanich Thistles); substitutes, Chalmers (Victoria City), Jimmie (Victoria City), and Jimmy (Victoria City).

Owing to the Victoria West team playing in an Association Cup match at Nanaimo on Sunday, none of their players were selected on the intercity team.

The second division game will be played in two thirty-five minute periods and both will handle the whistle. John McKinnon was chosen to referee the main attraction, while Ralph Alcock and Fred Saunders will act as line-men.

Trail Smoke-Eaters And Saskatoon Draw

Opening Game of Western Amateur Hockey Final Ends in Scoreless Tie

Quakers Appear Weary After Hard Series With Forts; Second Clash To-morrow

Vancouver, April 4.—Continuing the amazing number of scoreless draws in Dominion hockey play-downs to date, Saskatoon Quakers and Trail Smoke-Eaters to-day averted the second game to-morrow night of their two-game Western Canada final all time. Yesterday evening the Prairie squad and British Columbia's puck carriers tried vainly to get past two stellar goalies and the game ended without a score.

With the exception of the first period, in which play was even, Smoke-Eaters carried the balance of play but were able to do nothing against the veteran Quaker net. Time after time a massed Trail attack swept through and around the Quaker net, but Wood deftly flipped aside bullet-like drives from close-in and rolling shots from the blue line. Dupuis performed equally well in the Trail net, but was not called on to stop half the shots that rained on his veteran opponent.

Apparently still feeling the effects of their long-drawn out battle with Port William for the Prairie title, Quakers showed only flashes of the brilliance which finally carried them to a 1 to 0 triumph over the Lakehead champions. But although lacking the continuous drive that Trail displayed, Saskatoon slipped in a goal when Dewey batted in a loose puck halfway through the period, but the goal was ruled out for offside. Both teams missed open nets several times due to overcautiousness. A flashing Saskatoon attack near the end of the period almost ended in a marker for the visitors. Dupuis came out of his net to save but the whole Quaker front line was right in and peppered back three rebounds, the last one striking the Trail goalie on the head. The blow failed to dunt Dupuis and he came back after a minute's rest.

In the final session with Smoke-Eaters boring in Wood came out of his nets to completely outguess two-man combination twice in a row. Just before the final whistle Scharie split the Trail defence and drove in on Dupuis.

On the teams play another game Wednesday night, delaying the Rangers series.

To a finish, he finally ruled. And the final came just four minutes and forty-six seconds after resumption of play.

TWO GOALS DISALLOWED

Each team had a goal disallowed during the hectic strife. Art Smith, Bruin defenceman, rattled a shot behind Chabot in the third period when he caught the Leafs all in Boston territory and broke away alone. But Bill Thomas had skated offside as Smith took the puck away from Charlie Conacher to get in the open and an official whistle sounded before the Bruins got under way.

Neither the crowd nor the Bruins heard the whistle. It was glad tidings to the customers when Referee Odie Cleghorn called back the scoring play. Bruins protested heatedly and without effect.

King Clancy scored for Leafs in the fourth overtime period, but it came also after the whistle had shrilled. The King, with Shore, Harry Oliver, Copner and Harry Jackson, an outstanding figure in the game, shot in a pass from Joe Primeau, called into action in overtime. The centre star missed the fourth game because of an infected foot.

GOALIES BRILLIANT

Leafs were more aggressive throughout the regular sixty minutes and during most of the overtime. They earned far more opportunities to score than Bruins, forcing Thompson to make brilliant saves repeatedly. But Chabot rose to great heights, too, to stave off Boston.

Bruins played cautiously, content to let Shore lead the major assaults. Hockey's greatest defenceman, the blonde from Alberta, was a threat every time he started down the ice. The paid attendance, 14,539, was twenty-eight more than saw the fourth series game here Saturday night.

Wheat Prices Follow Steady Trend Upward Making Small Gains

Winnipeg, April 4.—In spite of dull trading and small export sales of Canadian wheat on the grain exchange today, wheat futures prices followed a steady trend noticeable at Liverpool and closed 1/4 to 1/2 higher. May closed at 50 1/2, July at 51 1/2 and October at 52 1/2.

Foreign demand is very limited and importers are showing no desire to book very far ahead. The port stocks on the continent and in the United Kingdom have increased during the past week, but supply of wheat on ocean passage have dropped considerably.

A good domestic demand for most grades of oats was a feature of the cash course today. Interest in the various grades of cash wheat was indifferent and spreads generally remained unchanged.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

"Other Woman" Runs a Poor Chance in Competition With Wife — How Can Silent Man Develop Conversational Self-starter?

DEAR MISS DIX—In the eternal triangle the sympathy always goes out to the poor wronged wife, but there's never anything but contempt for the Other Woman. But it isn't the wife who suffers the most and who goes through the tortures of hell. It is the Other Woman. I know from experience. And the more you love the man, the more you suffer. He will promise no matter what happens to always love and protect you, but when the time comes when he is tired of you or he wants to save himself from divorce he will betray you and the things that have been sacred to you. He will take everything you have to give, your love, your honor, your self-respect and happiness, and leave you with a broken home and a broken heart. Oh, if there was only some way to reach the hundreds of women and girls and save them in some way from becoming entangled with married men. But there isn't. For your own case is always "different" and the married man you are in love with is always "going to be true to you."

THE OTHER WOMAN.

Dorothy Dix, isn't there some word you can send out that will save some girl from the wreck I have made of my life?

Answer—None so deaf as those who will not hear. None are so blind as those who will not see. Why, it seems to me that I spend half my time broadcasting warnings through this column to girls about the danger they run in having affairs with married men and the disaster that is certain to come to them if they do.

But my voice is that of one crying in the wilderness and I fear that few heed it. For, as you say, each girl believes her case to be different from all others, and that for once a liaison is going to last and be enduring, and that the man she loves is not only different from all other men but is going to be different from what he himself has been in the past.

One can understand how the simple village maiden or the unsophisticated country lass of the past could have befuddled herself with this optimistic belief, but it is incredible that the worldly wise, hard-boiled girl of today, and especially the business girl who has seen how a dozen such office intrigues worked themselves out, should still be able to delude herself with even the hope that an affair with a married man can bring her any good.

But they do, which proves anew that we can believe anything that we want to believe. They still fall for the old line about the wife who does not understand, about the unhappy home, about the heart starving for affection, about how they could not live except for the sympathy and tenderness some pretty young woman gives them.

And the very girl who knows that a man lies and cheats his wife and is disloyal to her; the girl who has telephoned dozens of times to his wife, that he is engaged in conference and wouldn't be able to come home to dinner when he was taking her out to dinner and a night club, still believes that he will be faithful to her. Incredible. But true.

Of course, it is easy enough for girls to fall in love with married men. They are often far more fascinating than any of the younger men they know. They are older, more intelligent, have seen more of the world and have a technique in dealing with women that is highly developed through much practice. But every girl's guardian angel gives her a warning before she finally and irrevocably falls hopelessly in love with a married man, and then when she feels herself slipping and her emotions beginning to get beyond her control she does well to sit down and try to figure out what she will get out of giving her heart and her life to him.

Is she willing to take another woman's husband from her? Has she no compunctions of conscience about breaking up a home and half-orphaning little children? Does she believe that she can build her house of happiness out of the wreck of another woman's happiness? If not, what then?

Does she want to spend her life on the outskirts of the life of the man she loves? Does she want always to have to keep secret rendezvous with him, or else openly join the ranks of those women who are despised? Does she think that she can find any happiness in knowing that another woman bears the name of the man she loves, that she occupies the place in society his position gives her, that the wife spends the money that she helps the husband earn?

Can any vanity or any sophistry blind her to the fact that the man who has not been faithful to one woman is not likely to be faithful to another, and that he who breaks his marriage vows when he wears of his wife will not hesitate to rend asunder the flimsy ties that bind him to his mistress when he grows tired of her?

A man may not love his wife. He may not be happy with her. But that does not mean he is going to get a divorce. Often philanthropists cling to his wife because she is a protection against the Other Woman. Often a man does not want to give up his children. Often a wife has money or powerful family connections that are useful to the man. And it never does a man's business standing any good to get a divorce.

So the girl who is in love with a married man is up against all of these obstacles and she generally finds that when it comes to a showdown between her and the wife, she loses out. And these are things that every girl does well to bear in mind when she embarks on a love affair with a married man.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a middle-aged, successful business man, widely traveled, well read, fond of sports, the theatre and everything interesting and educational, yet so poor a conversationalist that I am at a loss for anything to say when I should be able to talk and to entertain anyone in whose company I chance to be thrown. I am in the habit of meeting people and am not bashful, I have just got nothing to say. Probably many others suffer from the same embarrassment. Can you suggest ways and means to make dumb people self-starters?

JOHN THE SILENT.

Answer—If people haven't the gift of gab, they simply haven't it, and are no more to be blamed for it than they are for not having been born with a peaches-and-cream complexion or a tenor voice. And, unfortunately, there doesn't seem to be much they can do about it.

To be interesting, conversation has to be spontaneous and come right hot off the griddle. There is nothing more flavorless than made-to-order conversation, the talk that is kept going just for talk's sake and to prevent embarrassing gaps of silence.

You know how it is when people converse as if they learned to talk in a school of correspondence. And you have met up with the synthetic humorists who repeat word for word the funny stories they read in a newspaper and that somehow they manage to make sad and dreary instead of laugh-getters.

But why learn to be a talker? The world is overful of them and what it needs is listeners. Among the most agreeable and intelligent people we know are not the spellbinders nor the chatterers, but the silent people who lend us their ears. Don't forget there are two kinds of dumbness. There is the dumbness of stupidity and the sympathetic and appreciative silence of those who apparently hang upon our words. And don't forget that people who talk little always get the reputation of being deep and profound. Even a fool is accounted wise when he holds his peace, says the proverb.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Ten years ago my husband deserted me for another woman. He left me with two children and I have had a hard struggle to rear them. Now he wants to come back to us. As he is tired of this woman, but insists as I have raised my two boys this far in life I think I will just go along as I have been. Am I right?

BROKEN-HEARTED.

Answer—I think you are wise to let well enough alone. Your husband has no sense of duty or honor or he would not have left you and the boys in the first place. I have never been able to see why a woman should take back a broken-down, worn-out old dog after he tires of sowing his wild oats and I want somebody to nurse him and take care of him in his old age. Such a man as your husband is would certainly be no good influence over your boys.

BULLETIN BOARD
WHAT RELATION HAS THE SPEED OF AN AIRPLANE TO THE SPEED OF A BOMB? YOU HAVE HEARD OF A VERY INTERESTING QUESTION WITH CONTROL. IT INVOLVES AERODYNAMIC PRINCIPLES WHICH HAVE CAUSED MUCH STUDY. IN A WORD, VERY FAST PLANE ARE SUBJECTS TO DISCREPANCY OF CONTROL. AN AERODYNAMIC FACT IS: THE FASTER THE PLANE GOES, THE MORE IT TENDS TO FALL BACK. CONTROL AND THIS IS THE REASON WHY THE "STICK" OF A BOMB MACHINE IS SO GEARED AS TO PRODUCE VERY FAST DECELERATION AT THE BEGINNING OF THE FORWARD PLANE. THIS IS A VERY INTERESTING FACT. CONTROL SURVIVES MORE IN A BOMB MACHINE. IT IS GEARED TO CONTROL WHICH CANNOT BE ADJUSTED.
